BUSINESS IS MUCH BETTER

Will Continue To Improve, Says Investigator.

SALESMEN FIND A FAVOABLE SITUATION

In Making Rounds of Their Customers.

Daily Stream of Grain and Livestock, Movnig to Market, Is Helping To Relieve Business Situation, It's Said.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Business conditions will improve from now on, says Archer Wall Douglas, chairman of the committee of statistics and standards, of the chamber of commerce of the United States, in his monthly report of business, issued today.

"The most convincing evidence that we are on the high road to recovery," Douglas says, "is found in the universal report, brought by traveling salesmen from every section of the country, of steadily growing sentiment that business will be better in the spring"—not a sudden return to prosperity, which is neither likely nor desirable, but a slow and natural working out of these processes of liquidation which are now in full operation.

"There are few who are more responsible than these same traveling salesmen for the growth of this healthy sentiment which, in effect, is the recognition of the inherent soundness of the situation and remedies for it lie largely in constructive action. Not only is sentiment improving, but there is definite increase in the volume of business done.

"Despite the general story of farmers withholding their products, there is daily a steady stream of grain and livestock coming to market, not in full volume, but enough to assist in alleviating the situation.

Stock Market.

New York, Feb. 21.—The action taken by the minority stockholders of Atlantic Gulf and West Indies in organizing a stockholders' protective committee looking to the appointment of a receiver of the corporation, caused a break of 7 3-4 points in that issue, to 42 1-2, at the opening of the stock market, today. The minority stockholders charge mismanagement and dissipation of the corporation's assets.

CRUSHED UNDER TONS OF DEBRIS

Cleveland Workers Caught in Fall of Building.

OLD MASONIC TEMPLE COLLAPSES TODAY

Three Floors of Structure Drop in Mass.

Dead and Injured Are Employed by a Company Engaged in Tearing Down the Old Structure in Forest City.

Cleveland, Feb. 21.—One man was instantly killed, two others are dying in a hospital, while the crushed bodies of three other workmen are believed to be buried under the debris of three floors of the old Masonic temple, Superior avenue, which collapsed just before 11 o'clock, this morning.

One young lad, Wilbur Beech, fourteen, water boy for the workmen, escaped death by a miracle. A large steel beam arched above his body as he fell, protecting him from the crushing force of the mass of brick, mortar and timber.

The dead man is believed to be Nate Suddovitch, although his identity is not thoroughly established.

A third laborer, whose body has not yet been recovered, is believed dead under the mass of wreckage, as are also two strangers who had been talking with Soglovitz just before the floors gave way.

About 100 laborers were at work wrecking the building, which is being torn down to make way for the new home of the federal reserve bank.

The crash is believed to have occurred when some of the side wall crumbled and fell upon the third floor, already heavily burdened with wreckage, resulting from the work of tearing down the structure.

The third floor gave way, carrying with it the second and first, hurling all into the basement.

Some forty or fifty laborers, near the falling walls, fled to the street and escaped without injury. A complete list of those dead or injured will not be possible until the wreckage is removed, but a careful check-up by officials of the wrecking company indicates six as the probable total number of casualties, only those in the office on the first floor being caught in the collapse, so far as is known.

Two fire companies, assisted workmen in removing the debris to reach the bodies of the dead and injured.

An immense crowd gathered, covering Superior avenue and a squad of mounted police was called to keep them back from the scene of the tragedy.

NAVAL MONEY BILL DELAYED

Opposition to Some Provisions Is Growing.

ILL-PORTENDING RUMBLINGS HEARD

As Senate Tries To Relieve Legislative Jam.

Senator Penrose Hopes To Get Action on Soldiers' Bonus Bill During Present Session. Other Measures Up.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Congress turned into the home stretch, today, in a neck-and-neck race against time.

With but few legislative days remaining before the present session ends, there was every indication, today, that some of the important legislation now on the way will never reach completion.

In the senate, the big task is the passage of appropriation bills, which already have been passed by the house. There are rumblings which forbode ill for some of these appropriation bills, particularly the naval appropriation bill.

The army appropriation bill, providing for reduced military forces, will also be the subject of considerable debate and will retard any rapid progress by the upper body in disposing of the jam of legislation now steadily mounting.

Senator Penrose, chairman of the senate-finance committee, intends to have the soldier-bonus bill reported to the senate, this week and hopes to get action on it before the close of the session, but inasmuch as this bill has been the subject of many frays, there is little hope of its rapid passage and if it finally comes to a vote, it is not likely to get out of conference during the present session.

Immigration Bill.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The Dillingham immigration restriction bill, which passed the senate, will limit the number of immigrants during the next twelve months to slightly more than 335,0000, it is estimated. The Dillingham bill was passed as a substitute for the Johnson bill, passed by the house. The latter would bar for a year all immigrants except relatives of aliens now in this country. The bills now go to conference for adjustment. Both bills would go into effect within two months, with the Dillingham measure effective for fifteen and the Johnson for fourteen months.

Forty per cent. fewer immigrants would be admitted under the Dillingham bill as it passed the senate than as reported by the senate immigration committee. This was accomplished by reducing the basis of immigration from five per cent. to three per cent. of the total number of aliens in this country according to the 1910 census. The three per cent. standard of the bill, according to committee estimates, would permit 202,212 from western Europe and 153,249 from northern and southern Europe.

Advocates of the legislation declared it was designed as a tempo-

SEE A REVIVAL OF PROPAGANDA

Officers of American Legion Issue Warning.

ENEMY AGENTS ARE GROWING ACTIVE

Object of Propaganda Intended To Turn American Sentiment Against Allies.

Indianapolis, Feb. 21.—American posts throughout the United States were asked by the legion's national headquarters here to watch for a revival of German propaganda in this country.

A bulletin sent out by the national headquarters said the object of the propaganda seemed intended to turn "American sentiment against the allies and to create "a powerful national political machine by the amalgamation of the disloyal elements in our population."

Mass meetings in New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Chicago, Milwaukee, Louisville, Omaha and Cleveland have been planned, the bulletin said, as "one of the first national manifestations" of the propaganda campaign. The bulletin, which was sent to all state headquarters of the legion, said:

"There is come to the attention of the national headquarters information indicating a move for nation-wide revival of German propaganda activities in the United States which are the result of a carefully directed national campaign, the object of which seems to be:

"First, the disruption of the accord which exists between the United States and our allies, with particular reference to France and Great Britain, by the turning of American popular sentiment against the governments of those countries, and second, the methodical creation of a powerful national political machine by the amalgamation of the disloyal elements of our population and their elevation to a place of power in American affairs by the invisible influence of this organized minority.

"Identified with the movement are individuals whose disloyalty and whose efforts in the interest of Germany have been notorious in the past and who are now again in direct communication with Berlin."

SAYS M'ADOO GIVES CREDITS

Is Responsible for Advances Made Europe.

TREASURY SECRETARY ON WITNESS STAND

Houston Gives Statement on Foreign Deals.

One Power Continues To Block Final Disposition of the German Cable Controversy. Landis Hearing Is On.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Full responsibility for loans, credits and advances made by the treasury department to European governments was placed on former Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo, by Secretary of the Treasury David F. Houston, today, when he reappeared before the senate judiciary committee.

Houston declared McAdoo "must have been laboring under a misapprehension" when he stated recently he had opposed the establishment of further foreign loans or credits during his incumbency of the office of secretary of the treasury.

To Block Action.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The charge that Judge K. M. Landis was appointed head of the baseball commission in order to block legal action against organized baseball, was made, today, by Representative Welty, of Ohio, appearing before the house judiciary committee, in support of his charges demanding an impeachment trial of Landis.

Welty cited in support of this charge the baseball suit in the District of Columbia supreme court, the judgment against the baseball league of $240,000 and the appeal to a higher court from this damage verdict. He charged that the selection of Judge Landis was an effort to defeat this action in the courts. He said this was an indirect attempt to influence illegally the course of justice and that existing federal statutes make such attempts a crime with penalties both on the federal judge, or other official and those who made the attempt.

"It was a bait by the baseball magnates," he said.

Welty read many newspaper clippings showing that Judge Landis accepted the job of baseball arbitrator, or commissioner and a copy of the contract made by the baseball organizations which he said Judge Landis signed.

"I wrote Judge Landis, asking for a copy of the contract, but I have received no reply from him," Welty said.

"Have you any proof Judge Landis neglected his duties?" asked Representative Walsh.

"Yes," said Welty.

Welty cited an Illinois statute regulating the conduct of judges. Representatives Walsh and Husted, of the committee, protested that the Illinois statute controlling the conduct of state judges was not binding on federal judges and had no bearing on the charges brought against Judge Landis.

Welty then took up the case of the Baltimore Exposition company against the American and National leagues of baseball clubs. The lower court gave damage, the court of appeals reversed this decision, a month after Judge Landis became arbiter.

"We are limited by the five specifications of the charges," interrupted Representative Husted.

"This committee sits as a prosecutor," protested Welty. "It can hear anything, open it up fully."

"Oh, don't make so many speeches, give us the facts," interrupted Volstead.

Welty read a letter from Attorney General Palmer, showing there was no specific law prohibiting Judge Landis from accepting the position of baseball arbitrator. He also read a letter from Adler, a Chicago lawyer, criticizing Judge Landis, and from District Attorney Cline, at Chicago, saying there were 300 cases on the federal docket at Chicago.

The Test.

"How many cases has Judge Landis disposed of, not how many are on the docket?" asked Volstead.

"That is the test."

"You can get that information," said Welty.

"I dont want to be insulted," said Volstead.

"I think it outrageous that Judge Landis should accept this salary" said Husted, "but I want some facts to sustain the charges."

AMERICA'S MOST PERFECT GIRL PICKS HUSBAND

Although Frank Glass Valentine, of Jersey City, is unknown to official experts as America's most perfect Adonis, there is at least one specialist who is certain he has no equal. And that specialist is his bride of a few days, who was Miss Betty Buell, of Clinton, Connecticut. Mrs. Valentine is undoubtedly a specialist on the subject, for in April, 1915, she was awarded the Smithsonian Institute "cord" as the most perfect American woman. Mrs. Valentine is a daughter of Clarence Buell, and is a direct descendant of John and Priscilla Alden. After a five years' search Dr. A. Herdlika, of the Smithsonian Institution, selected Miss Buell as the most perfect type of American womanhood from a list of more than 5,000 contestants.

THREE MEMBERS OF FAMILY DIE

Two Others Dangerously Ill of Strange Malady.

A PENNSYLVANIA TOWN IS ALARMED

Precautions Are Being Taken Against Typhus—Federal Officer Talks of Disease.

Bradford, Penn., Feb. 21.—With three members of the family of Jesare Romanelli dead and two others seriously ill, the board of health at Lewis Run is today taking every precaution to prevent the spread of the strange disease which it is feared is typhus fever. The third death was that of Stella, two-year-old daughter, late last night. It is expected that County Health Officer W. A. Strangler, of Smethport, will take charge of the situation and act for the state board of health. Quarantine regulations are being rigidly enforced at Lewis Run, which is a borough six miles from here.

Danger Remote.

Boston, Feb. 21.—"Danger from a typhus epidemic is very remote and published statements of New York health officials regarding typhus is for political effect," declared Surgeon General Hugh S. Cumming, of the United States public health service, who came here today to examine Boston's immigration facilities.

NEW YORK HARD HIT BY BLIZZARD

No Less Than Ten Deaths as Result of Storm.

New York, Feb. 21.—Buried under a twelve-inch blanket of snow, New York struggled to carry on business as usual, today, though traffic was partially blocked and much suffering was caused by the storm.

No less than ten deaths, scores of accidents, delayed trains and belated commuters, was the net result. The storm, it is estimated, will cost the city about $1,000,000.

ALLIES OPEN A COUNCIL TODAY

Delegates Gather in London, This Morning.

SOME BIG PROBLEMS TO BE CONSIDERED

Amendments to League Covenant Proposed.

"Open Diplomacy" Will Probably Be Given Cold Shoulder. Believed That Discussion Will Be in Secret Session.

Paris, Feb. 21.—A firm determination was apparent when the league of nations council met, today, to impose a strangle hold upon former German and Turkish territories thus preventing South American and Scandinavian neutrals from again attempting to bring up the terms of allied mandates when the league of nations assembly meets again in September.

This was one of two certain results that was foretold when the representatives assembled, just before noon, in the salon of the Petit Luxemburg palace. The other was that "open diplomacy" would receive the cold shoulder.

The original order of the day provided that the first business of the session should be the appointment of a committee to examine proposals for amendments to the league covenant, virtually all of which had been suggested during the assembly meeting in Geneva. Despite the program of business, Presidon de Cuncha, of the council, informed the International News service that there was a strong current of feeling among the delegates that the question of publicity should be taken up first and definitely settled. A resolution on the matter of publicity was before the council when it met, having been introduced at the assembly meeting in Geneva by Lord Robert Cecil, representative of South Africa.

A canvass of the council representatives showed there is not the slightest disposition to hold public meetings of the council, except possibly stage-dressed affairs to approve decisions reached secretly. However, in defence to the delegates from the British dominions and sentiment prevalent in the United States, the council likely will adopt a scheme whereby the formal communique will be augmented by informal statements from a member of the council at the end of each session.

To Make Amends.

It would be his office to answer discreetly the interrogations of the newspaper correspondents.

Drafts of the mandates which, in each case, will have been prepared by the interested mandatory power, probably will be approved with little if any change, although Dr. Wellington Koo, the youthful Chinese ambassador to Great Britian, who is representing China on the council, said he was going to register some objections against this procedure.

It is understood that Sir Robert Borden, delegate from Canada, has decided to accept the chairmanship of the committee on proposed changes in the covenant. These amendments include some that were put forward by Canada at Geneva, notably one in Kill article 10.

The other proposed amendments include one sponsored by the Scandinavian countries for the democratization of the league and one proposed by Argentina to admit Germany to the league forthwith and to take control of the league out of the hands of the allies, giving this control to the "recognized powers" of the earth.

The refusal of the assembly to consider Argentina's amendments led to the withdrawal of that nation from the league.

Numerous delegates were said to favor the appointment of Sir Robert Borden to head the amendment committee, on the ground it would convince the United States that the league is willing to accept important changes.

The importance attached by the allies to the program for pushing through the mandate decisions is seen in the presence of such keen statesmen as A. J. Balfour, former foreign secretary of England; Paul Hymans, of Belgium, president of the league of nations; Leon Bourgeois, the foremost French expert on the league and Viscount Ishii, Japanese ambassador to France.

The fact that these statesmen are in Paris at a time when a great international conference is being held in London, is accepted as highly significant.

OUTDOOR LIFE HAS RESULTS

President-Elect Is in Fine Fettle in Florida.

READY FOR RIGORS OF AMINISTRATION

Harding Passes Half of Each Day in Open—Cabinet Problems Unsolved.

St. Augustine Florida Feb 21.—Weeks of outdoor life until the semi-tropical sun of the South have put President-Elect Harding in just perfect physical condition and he will enter upon his presidential duties ten days hence, with a physique far stronger than enjoyed by many of his predecessors.

Dr. C. E. Sawyer, the Hardings' family physician, said today he had just completed a thorough examination of the president-elect and found him to be in the best physical condition of his career. So far as his health is concerned, Mr. Harding can view with equanimity the rigors of White House duties, according to Dr. Sawyer.

The result of his month's exercise is plainly seen. He is deeply tanned by the sun, his step is more springy and he appears physically fit to undertake any strenuous task. For the remainder of his stay in Florida, there will be no deviation from his system of exercising outdoors at least half of the day.

Little Progress.

Little, if any, progress was made by Mr. Harding over the week-end in filling the three places in his cabinet that admittedly are still vacant. The president-elect's advisers said, today, that he is frankly in a quandary over the naval portfolio in particular.

A number of names are "under consideration"—John Hays Hammond probably being foremost. The same is true, in a somewhat lesser degree, of the labor and commerce positions. Herbert Hoover's status has not been determined definitely.

The award of the labor portfolio has developed into a predicament of no small dimensions. A number of trades union organizations are warring bitterly for the place and are putting forth insistent claims that this man or that be chosen. Considerable opposition has grown up to the candidacy of James J. Davis, a farmer labor leader and now head of the Order of Moose. The claim has been put forth my some labor leaders that Davis' appointment could not be considered a "labor" appointment because Davis no longer is active in the ranks.

T. V. O'Connor, head of the Longshoremen's union, and James Duncan, of the Granite Cutters' union, are two strong contenders for the appointment, against whom there are no similar objections.

BANDITS SHOOT CLEVELAND OFFICER

Patrolman Is Expected To Die in Hospital.

Cleveland, Feb. 21.—August Dyke, motorcycle patrolman, shot last night at 9:20, in a battle with three bandits, is lying between life and death, this morning, at Glenville hospital. "He passed a good night, but his recovery is still doubtful," was the word from his bedside.

The patrolmen saw the three highwaymen lying in wait for victims in a vacant lot in the northeast section of the city. A command to surrender was answered with a fusillade of bullets, to which the patrolman replied, emptying his revolver, but without wounding any of his assailants.

The highwaymen fled towards the lake and escaped. They are believed to have been seen on a street car on St. Clair avenue.

ENRICO CARUSO NOW RECOVERING

May Soon Be Able To Take Desired Trip to Italy.

New York, Feb. 21.—Enrico Caruso was considered convalescent by a couple of doctors today, but his physicians decided to issue no further statements.

With a couple of weeks, it is hoped the noted tenor may be removed to Atlantic City, where he may recuperate sufficiently to permit him taking his planned trip to Italy.

Caruso still has a persistent fever, but his appetite is good and he appeared cheerful, today.

Some discussion has been occasioned by the second attack of pleurisy, as to whether his lung power—and consequently, vocal power—will be reduced, but the general verdict was that such a matter can not be determined until Caruso has fully recovered and tries to sing again. That time is not expected to be several months or more distant.

Caruso will be forty-eight years old, next Friday.

STATE TO LEASE A BIG TRACT OF LAND

Will Be Stocked with Deer, Wild Turkey and Other Game.

Columbus, Feb. 21.—The state fish and game department is about to take its first step to bring big game back into Ohio, it was announced by A. P. Baxter. The department is about to lease, with privilege of purchase, 7,000 acres of hillside wilderness in Scioto county for use as a game preserve. It is the property of Simon Le Bold and is on the tax duplicate at $2 and $5 an acre. There is an enormous second growth of pine, cedar, oak and other timber on the tract. It is planned to stock it with deer, wild turkeys, pheasants and grouse. "The hunters of Ohio have built the fish hatcheries of the state and now they insist that their license fees be used to do something for them," said Assistant J. W. Stuber. "And we are going to do it."

An Athens delegation will be here today, Stuber said, to offer 15,000 acres of wilderness to the department. All the timber has been cut off. The land is covered with a second growth and brush and is not fit for farming. It is underlaid with coal. The state will lease only the surface rights, with privilege of purchase.

FEDERAL COURT IS HEARING TESTIMONY

Traction Company Is Seeking a Raise in Rates.

Columbus, Feb. 21.—Testimony and argument were submitted in federal court here today to John H. Howell, examiner, Washington, representing the interstate commerce commission, relative to the request by officials of the Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction company, for authority to raise rates, fares and charges at East Liverpool, Steubenville and Wellsville, to a level with the interstate rates, fares and charges now prevailing on that road.

The company was represented by Attorneys Agnew' Hice, Beaver, Pennsylvania, general counsel; T. H. Hogstett, Cleveland, and C. P. Marshall, Washington.

CHURCH LEADERS IN COLUMBUS TODAY

Conference Under Auspices of Ohio Church Federation.

Columbus, Feb. 21.—About a dozen denominations are represented by more than fifty delegates attending the interdenominational conference of Ohio church leaders, opening here, today, to consider rural church needs. The conference, held under the auspices of the Ohio Federation of Churches, will end Wednesday.

Rev. Robert E. Pugh, of the Presbyterian state headquarters, chairman of the executive committee, Ohio Federation of Churches, is presiding. Rev. B. F. Lamp, secretary of the federation, will submit survey reports covering rural church conditions in fifty counties.

TAXATION PROGRAM OF OHIO FARMERS

Announcement Made by L. J. Taber, Grange Master.

Columbus, Feb. 21.—The permanent taxation program of organized Ohio farmers, according to L. J. Taber, Barnesville, master of the Ohio State grange and member of Governor Davis' citizen's taxation committee is:

"A debt limit in the constitution, a tax limit in the constitution to prevent the double taxation of land and [illegible] state's tax [illegible] by a budget system."

UNKNOWN BANDIT ROBS MEMPHIS BANK

OPPORTUNITY TO REARGUE TWO IMPORTANT CASES

Granted Attorneys by the Court of Appeals.

Opportunity to argue their cases orally was granted by the court of appeals, today, in the case of Harry D. Hale, as director general of railroads, plaintiff-in-error, against George W. Raub and Laura Raub, as administrators, defendants-in-error and Walker D. Hines, director general of railroads, plaintiff-in-error, against Bertha R. Moran.

Arguments in both cases will be heard by the court as constituted prior to February 9 when Judge Ernest S. Wanders of Napoleon succeeds former Judge Walter H. Kinder as a member of the court.

In the common pleas court, George W. Raub and Laura Raub, as administrators were given a judgment of $11,000 for the death of J. Henry Raub, who was killed on the Big Four railroad. In the same court Mrs. Moran recovered a judgment of $12,000 for the death of her husband, who was killed while working for the Erie railroad.

HUGHES' POLICY IN STATE DEPARTMENT

Departmental Questions Will Get Fairest Publicity.

St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 21.—Charles Evans Hughes, whose appointment as secretary of state in the Harding cabinet was formally announced by the president-elect, declared his intention of giving the fairest publicity to every department question that would permit of public discussion. Asked whether he intended to follow the precedent of the present administration in holding periodical conferences with newspaper men, he replied with an emphatic affirmative.

The rise of Charles Evans Hughes to the most important official position outside the presidency has taken place in 16 years. As a rather obscure lawyer in New York, Hughes in 1905 took charge of the investigation of the "combine" of insurance companies in that state.

With the prestige gained from this work, Hughes entered politics and was elected governor of New York and at the expiration of his term was appointed by President Taft an associate justice of the United States supreme court, resigning his seat in 1916 to accept the Republican nomination for the presidency, being narrowly defeated by President Wilson.

CIVILIANS ARE KILLED BY TROOPS

Thirteen Slain in Clash in County Cork.

Dublin, Feb. 21.—Thirteen civilians were killed and eight captured, of whom three were wounded, in an engagement in the district between Lisgold and Midleton, Cork county, according to a general headquarters report. A detachment of the Hampshire regiment surprised a party of civilians in a house on the outskirts of Midleton. The civilian forces split up, some of them remaining in the house while others took up positions in the garden. In brisk fighting one soldier was slightly wounded and the civilians were dispersed and pursued. A search of the house revealed quantities of buried arms and ammunition.

Called upon to halt at Blackwater, County Clare, a number of youths refused to do so. The soldiers fired a volley and two brothers, Donovan by name, 14 and 18 years of age, were killed.

PRESIDENT-ELECT APPROVES PROGRAM

Report of Representative Fordney Today.

Washington, Feb. 21.—President-Elect Harding has approved a legislative program for the next congress, which embraces the enactment of an emergency tariff to become effective by the middle of May, according to Representative Joseph Fordney, of Michigan, who returned here, today, after a conference at St. Augustine with Mr. Harding.

After the temporary tariff has been disposed of, the congress will turn to tax revision and finally, permanent tariff revision, according to the program outlined.

RICHARD WILSON DIES NEAR BUCYRUS TODAY

Father of Mrs. William F. Mahaffey, of Marion.

Richard Wilson, father of Mrs. William F. Mahaffey, of No. 753 north State street, died of arterio-sclerosis at the Crawford home this morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Mr. Wilson is survived by two daughters and one son. Mrs. Mahaffey of this city; Mrs. William Gwynne, of Holmes township; Crawford county, and James D. Wilson, of Bucyrus.

The funeral will probably be held Thursday.

New Bread Price.

Sandusky, Feb. 21.—A twenty-four ounce loaf of bread for ten cents, because of the change in the price of flour from Cleveland, are now able to sell a loaf of bread for this price. Such appropriate postwar figures, the Grocers Bakery today announced [illegible] per cent [illegible] is lower than Cleveland.

TWO-YEAR SEARCH ENDS AT ARDMORE

Ardmore, Oklahoma, Feb. 21.—A two-year search by a war hero for the girl he met at a war benefit in New York, ended here Sunday, in the wedding of Miss Doris Morrison, of New York City and Lieutenant [illegible] Lownsbury, of the United States army forces.

The pair first met at a dance at the Hotel Plaza. Lownsbury immediately was ordered to France. Letters miscarried. After the armistice, Lownsbury returned to New York in search of the girl. It was fruitless. He recalled the mention of relatives in Texas and he went to Dallas. A week ago, he came to Ardmore on business. The girl was [illegible] visiting friends. They met accidentally on the street.

Worst Blizzard.

Boston, Feb. 21.—New England's worst blizzard in twenty-two years and swept out to sea, today, leaving in its wake a death toll of several, scores of craft piled up on the coast, railroad and street-car traffic demoralized and a mass of tangled telegraph wires and snow-clogged roads.

Forces Massing.

London, Feb. 21.—Heavy forces of Turkish Nationalist troops have been massed upon the Smyrna front and a great offensive is expected soon against the Greeks, said a despatch from Constantinople, this afternoon.

CAN NOT CONVERT SOULS THROUGH LAW

Declaraton of Bishop W. A. Leonard in Cleveland.

Cleveland, Feb. 21.—"You can not convert souls by law," declared Bishop W. A. Leonard, of the Episcopal church, in a sermon preached in commemoration of the birth of Washington. "We have heard much, lately, concerning the revival and re-enactment of the blue laws. Many of them remain on the statute books minute relics of an age, the extreme repression of which had proved their own inevitable undoing."

"Our special obligation [illegible] of silence upon a common conduct as taught in the public schools, but insistence upon morals as indicated in the word of God, and the injunction upon that is termed Americanization.

"We are in danger of losing our hold and grip upon convictions and of indulging ourselves in carrying opinions."

NO COURT HELD AT WILLIAMSON TODAY

Two of Nineteen Defendants Too Ill To Appear.

Williamson, West Virginia, Feb. 21.—Because of the illness of two of the nineteen defendants—Charlie Kiser and "Bill" Bowman, no court was held, today, in the Matewan gun-battle trial.

Judge Robert L. Bailey announced that, beginning tomorrow, court would open at 8 o'clock and "we will go on for eight or nine hours daily until this case is finished."

AN OVERLOAD ON WORLD BUSINESS

Expenditures for World War Are Unbearable.

DRASTIC CUT IN EXPENSES DEMANDED

President of American Ceramic Society Talks of World Trade and National Protection.

Columbus, Feb. 21.—Declaring that the huge expenditures by governments throughout the world, due to the World war, constitute an overload so heavy that business can not carry it, E. H. Minton, Metuchen, New Jersey, president of the American Ceramic society, addressing the opening session of the society's twenty-third annual meeting here, today, urged a drastic cut in these tremendous financial disbursements.

Development of world-wide trade was regarded by President Minton as essential to national prosperity, stating that this trade is possible only through exchange of commodities he asked that careful and serious consideration be given the proposal for a protective tariff.

The unemployment situation throughout the United States President Minton believes, should be solved by engineers and business men and not "by politicians."

He said the society of which he is the president should make a special study of business management which he termed the connecting link between capital and labor and the workers.

The morning session was marked by reports of officials and committees.

Reading of fifteen papers on technical subjects were scheduled for this afternoon's session. A smoker is to be held in the Hotel Deshler, tonight.

SPECIAL INQUIRY IN THE HAMON CASE

Charged a Plot Is Laid To Convict Oklahoma Woman.

Ardmore, Oklahoma, Feb. 21.—The town is waiting for sensations to pop in the Hamon case before Clara Smith Hamon goes to trial. Although attorneys for the accused woman continue to remain uncommunicative, persons close to the defense admitted, today, that a special inquiry is contemplated to present evidence said to connect men prominent financially and politically as ringleaders of an alleged plot to convict the girl. On evidence now being gathered, it was stated, impends the arrest of persons in Oklahoma and Texas, who, it is charged, have been "framed" to testify against her.

Hotel Is Burned.

Lancaster, Pennsylvania, Feb. 21.—The Hotel Cocalico, at Ephrata, the finest country hotel in Pennsylvania, was burned, early today. Most of the guests lost everything except the clothing they wore. The loss is $150,000.

COMPROMISE NOT UNLIKELY

Reorganization of Departments Hard Task.

TAXATION BILLS ARE COMING TO FRONT

Smith Law Suspension and Debt-Limitation Measures in Senate.

Columbus, Feb. 21.—Reorganization of state departments apparently is proving more difficult than had been anticipated.

Hearings which had been promised last week before the legislative committee, were not held. One faction, especially in the senate has gone so far as to express doubt whether any extensive reorganization scheme would pass in the upper house. That some compromise will have to be made, leading to a less radical result than desired by advocates of sweeping reorganization, is said to be probable.

Miss Rose Moriarty, Cleveland, head of the woman's division of the Republican state organization, announced that Governor Davis had promised his support in creation of a minimum wage commission. Hearings are to be held this week before the house labor committee on the Schrimper bill providing for such a commission. Women say this is the only thing they are seeking at the hands of the present assembly this year.

The debt limitation and Smith law suspension measures, which passed the house last week, will be up in the senate this week.

Meanwhile the Ohio tax conference, which framed the temporary measures, is to get busy and recommend a permanent solution of the taxation problems. Governor Davis, however, has called a citizens' committee to tackle the job of satisfying all property interests. It met last week and will again this week.

It is proceeding on the basis of the alternativ proposals of heads of farm organizations—either strict enforcement of the uniform rule, which they say hasn't been enforced since it was written into the constitution seventy years ago, or submission of a new amendment abolishing the uniform rule, placing a one and a half per cent. rate limit on real estate and providing that real estate shall pay only one tax—direct income.

Whichever of these two proposals is recommended to the governor and the legislature, or whatever compromise or new proposal it will suggest, the big task will come after that in satisfying sufficient elements in the assembly to get it adopted.

Uniform rule partisans will contend for its continuance. Those opposing it are asking the uniform rule men to do something constructive in the way of enforcing it.

JAILER WARNED BY FRIENDLY PRISONER

Big Jail Break in Chicago Is Frustrated Today.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—The scriptural adage about bread cast upon the waters returning, has a firm disciple here, today, in Jailer John J. Murphy.

While feeding prisoners in the detective bureau, Murphy slipped an extra chunk of bread to John Salaman, under arrest for wife desertion. Salaman was so grateful that he tipped Murphy off to a jail delivery plot which, according to Salaman's story, involved the murder of Murphy, himself. Acting on information given by Salaman, jailers searched the cells occupied by four of the most hardened criminals in the jail and found the bars almost cut through by saws that had been smuggled in.

Liberation of fifty prisoners in the detective bureau was to have been attempted early today, Salaman told the police, after the plotters had sawed through the bars. Killed Murphy and opened the cells with his keys.

HARDING PASSES SUNDAY QUIETLY

Attends Church in Morning and Later Takes Walk.

St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 21.—President-Elect Harding spent Sunday quietly at his headquarters here seeing no callers and apparently bringing none of the problems of his pro-inauguration period nearer to solution. With Mrs. Harding the president-elect attended church in the morning and later went for a walk.

Selections for the three unfilled cabinet places apparently were no nearer than they had been several days ago. Before final decisions are made late in the week, Mr. Harding is expected to see most of the G.O.P. leaders of his party.

Appointments of exceptional importance are understood to be on his program for today and Tuesday, but in conformity with the president-elect's custom the names of those who will come here are withheld.

A Warm-all-over Home
with Hot Water Heat

Hospitality begins with comfort. The IDEAL-Arcola heated home makes it attractively comfortable to young people as well as their elders—no chilly rooms or drafty corners

Ideal-ARCOLA Heating Outfits

THE owner of a modest home may now have a hot water heating plant to suit the size of his house and the size of his pocketbook.

The IDEAL-Arcola is placed in any room having a chimney connection. It heats that room and circulates hot water through small pipes to AMERICAN Radiators in the adjoining rooms.

All rooms are heated by one fire. The fuel used is less than that required to heat one or two rooms the OLD Way.

Made of everlasting cast-iron. Outlasts the building.

The standard way of heating greenhouses is by hot water. Delicate vegetation thrives on it. Hot water is therefore the best for human beings, for its soft, radiant heat protects and promotes health.

Discard the old-fashioned heating methods with the dry, devitalized, superheated air.

An investment in an IDEAL-Arcola heating outfit for your home will pay back to you hundreds of dollars in fuel-saving, besides giving you a lifetime of satisfaction, comfort and better health for the family.

Put in at any time without disturbance. Get an estimate.

PATRIOTIC OBSERVANCE OF HEROS' BIRTHDAYS

Memories of Washington, Lincoln and McKinley Honored.

W. R. C. ENTERTAINS COOPER POST AT DINNER

Patriotic Program Is Carried Out—W. B. Denman Is Seventy-Four Today.

The members of the Woman's Relief corps entertained about sixty members of Cooper Post, No 117, and a number of visiting comrades at dinner and a program in celebration of the birthday anniversaries of Lincoln, Washington and McKinley today in the Junior Order hall. Preceding the dinner the members of the post enjoyed an hour of greeting and visiting

An elegant dinner was served at the noon hour by the ladies, members of the post and a number of the relief corps ladies being seated at two long tables in the dining room.

Seventy-Four Today.

During the meal Commander G W. Williams announced that Comrade W. B Denman was today celebrating a birthday. Mrs Denman had baked a cake in honor of the event and it was very much enjoyed. Mr Denman is seventy-four years of age.

Ralph Spring, who this month celebrated his ninetieth birthday was among the comrades enjoying the dinner and meeting afterwards.

Following the dinner the guests were escorted to the main hall by the corps color bearers Mrs J H Dundore Mrs C H Bauer, Mrs Charles P Schaad and Mrs J W [illegible]. There the program was enjoyed. The members were welcomed by Mrs John L Jolly, president of the corps. Mrs. J W. Williams patriotic instructor introduced Colonel George B Christian, patriotic instructor of the post, who gave the address of the afternoon which was an interesting talk on Washington, Lincoln and McKinley.

Talks Are Given.

Following the address informal talks were given by Post Commander Williams, Major S N Tittle, W. B Denman David Sears A B Hayes and other comrades. J A Thomasson, of Pittsburgh also gave a brief talk.

The song "God Bless Light," was followed by a poem and incidents of the World war by Mrs J H Dundore and the Relief corps quartet, composed of Mrs H A McMurray, Mrs Ray Merchant, Mrs C H Bauer and Mrs Grant Kennedy, sang "My Flag." "Your Flag and My Flag" was the subject of a reading by Mrs John L Jolly, after which Mrs J M Williams gave a short talk on the Flag. The program closed with the salute to the flag.

SAYS M'ADOO GIVES CREDITS

"I would like to find some legal way to impeach the judge," said Representative Boies, Iowa.

"What I want to find out," said Representative Walsh, "is the ground for your deep conviction that Judge Landis should be impeached."

"Have you any proof that Judge Landis has neglected the duties of his court?" asked Representative Igoe.

"I have not," said Welty. "But I know he can not give full time to his court, as provided by law. I want to prove that these baseball players were guilty of bribing Judge Landis. You are not required to have a statutory law to try and convict Judge Landis of crimes and misdemeanor. He is appointed during good behavior, under the constitution and he can be removed for misbehavior."

Houston's Answer.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Davis F. Houston, secretary of the treasury, in his answer, today, to the suit filed by William Randolph Hearst to prevent further loans of money by the United States to foreign governments, declares that there exists no reason for an injunction against establishment of further credits, as there is no intention to grant them. Secretary Houston says he indicated that purpose in his report submitted to congress, last December.

No credits have been established since April 1, 1920, Houston stated.

Counsel for Houston made this the basis of their argument, today, before the district supreme court, against the granting of the injunction asked.

One Power Opposed.

Washington, Feb. 21.—One power, today, continued to block progress in the matter of final disposition of the German cables seized during the war. The international communications conference was to have met today, but the meeting was postponed until Friday, at the request of one of the representatives, who asked further time for his government in drawing a final conclusion of policy with regard to the cables. The power which is delaying was not disclosed.

CONFERENCE ON THE NEAR EAST

finite decision will be taken on the proposal to ratify the Turkish treaty, but that the matter would be referred to a sub-committee for a decision later. All the interested parties would file briefs with this committee.

It is possible that a "deal" may be arranged between the two leading powers at the conference—Great Britain and France—by which Premier Lloyd George will meet some of Premir Briand's views as to Germany, in return for which the French prime minister will consent to certain British claims, regarding Turkey. The British have been the chief support of the sultan's government at Constantinople, but the brunt of fighting against the Nationalists has fallen on the Greeks.

Premier Briand, of France, and Count Sforsa, the Italian foreign minister, held a long private conversation with the British premier during the morning. The Greek delegates were invited out of courtesy, but were not admitted to the private conclave. All of the delegates were notified to attend a conference at St. James' palace at 4 o'clock, this afternoon, to discuss the week's agenda.

The members of the Turkish delegation representing the Constantinople government was notified they might present their claims during the afternoon. The Greeks were not invited to be present during the presentation of the Turkish case.

Motion Defeated.

Washington, Feb 21.—A motion to take up the agriculture appropriations bill made by Senator Gronna Republican, of North Dakota, chairman of the senate agriculture committee, was defeated in the senate today. The vote was thirty-five for, thirty-six against.

Gronna made an eloquent plea for immediate consideration of the bill on the grounds that it provided for the urgent needs of the farmer.

Barns Destroyed.

Boston, Feb 21—Fire, today, completely destroyed the Neponset avenue car barns of the Boston Elevated Railway company, burning thirty-eight of the latest type cars and marooned thousands of commuters coming to the city, from Dorchester, Wallaton and Quincy. Elevated officials estimated the damage at $650,000.

NEWLIN HEARD BY FOUR LARGE AUDIENCES SUNDAY

Sermons of Morning and Evening Sharply Contrasted.

The stirring sermon of Dr. O. A. Newlin reached a considerable portion of Marion's population Sunday when he spoke to four large audiences. His sharply contrasted sermons Sunday morning and evening made deep impressions upon the audiences which filled the church to its capacity. The morning theme was "The Love of God" and contrasted with this was the evening message on "The Folly of Man." The one beautiful, tender, unexcelled constructive, the other ugly, harsh, selfish, destructive. The evening sermon was a keen diagnosis of the folly of the rich fool pictured in the familiar parable who thought that his life consisted in the abundance of his material possessions.

In the afternoon, Dr. Newlin spoke on the theme previously announced to large audiences of men and women in the First Presbyterian and Prospect Street M. E. churches. The latter church was filled to its capacity. The addresses next Sunday afternoon will be a continuation of those of yesterday, and will be on the themes, "The Social Leper" and "Safeguarding Virtue."

It is possible that an overflow meeting of women will be held in the Trinity Baptist church next Sunday afternoon to be addressed by Mrs. Newlin who will come from Winona Lake, Indiana for that purpose.

Announcement was made Sunday of big meeting for children and adults next Saturday evening when Mr. Rooney's "Booster Sunshine Chorus" will be the attraction.

The Newlin meetings will continue this week and next, closing Sunday, March 6.

DOUBLE BIRTHDAY SURPRISE SATURDAY

Misses Dulcie Peters and Stella M. Bailey, Principals.

A number of friends pleasantly surprised Miss Dulcie Peters and Miss Stella Mae Bailey, Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Bailey's mother, Mrs. D. L. Peters, of east Center street. The day marked the anniversaries of the birthdays of the girls. Music and contests were enjoyed, the honors in the contests going to Miss Ruth Brown, Miss Mildred Parthamore, Miss Georganna Grasher and Miss Gertrude Hoagland.

The guests included Mrs. T. H. Huffman, Mrs. Walter Pennell, Mrs. Harry Hudson, Mrs. B. V. Bailey, Mrs. N. M. Bollinger and son, Glen; Misses Emma Horseman Anna Pfeiffer, Elona Craig, Doris Leffler, Dorothy McKinley, Nellie Bacon, Clara Merchant, Elinor Williams, Ruth Brown, Margaret Williams, Edith McMurray, Dorothy Pennell, Esther Underhill, Mae Louise Roseberry, Catherine Hazen, Frances Jennings, Helen Barnhart, Mildred Pennell, Evelyn Alspach, Alma Rubins, Stella Mae Bailey, Mosella Bailey, Elwinna Lennon, Lily Bell Ward, Matilda May, Ruth Ward, Beulah Hammond, Gertrude Reeves, Georganna Greshel, Gertrude Hoagland, Helen Markert, Grace Kline, Dorothy Carter, Alto Bell and Lillian Hahn.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Evangelist Shellhaas Speaks.

Evangelist Shellhaas, of Elgin, spoke to a capacity house Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Seventh-Day Adventist church on north State street. Rev. Mr. Shellhaas took for his subject, "The Blue Laws. Are They Anti-Biblical?" and said in part:

"We can not legislate heaven to earth. If Jesus were here today He would tell those religious reformers who wish to heap their religious ideas on the people, 'put up your sword' as He told Peter when he ventured to fight with force."

"The gospel," the speaker continued, "as taught by Jesus, is to spread by the spirit and not by the state."

Evangelist Shellhaas will deliver the sermon next Saturday afternoon and evening and also on Sunday afternoon.

Closes Week's Mission.

Father Tiedemann, of the order of Holy Cross, closed a week's mission Sunday evening at St. Paul's Episcopal church. Following the sermon Rev. Father Tiedemann gave brief instructions on keeping the mission.

Men's Mission Opens.

The men's mission at St. Mary's Catholic church opened Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock with the rosary, instruction, sermon and benediction. The instruction was delivered on the way of the cross by Father Isadore Rafferty and the sermon was given by Father Friedlin Staeble.

Exercises of the men's mission will be at the same hours as those of the women's mission last week. Masses, with instructions, will be celebrated at 5 and 8 o'clock each morning, the way of the cross at 3 o'clock each afternoon and rosary, instruction, sermon and benediction each evening at 7:30 o'clock. The mission will close next Sunday.

The women's mission closed Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when the papal benediction was conferred. Masses were celebrated Sunday morning at 6:30, 7:30, 8:30 and 10 o'clock.

Blue Bird Class.

The Blue Bird class, of the Calvary Evangelical church, met at the home of Miss Lily Bell Wood, of Gerhart street, Saturday afternoon. The time was passed sewing carpet rags and socially.

The guests were Misses Abigail Ward and Vera June Smith.

Willing Workers' Class.

The members of the Willing Workers class, of the Forest Lawn church, were entertained Saturday afternoon at the home of the teacher, Mrs. James Church, of east Center street. A social hour was enjoyed with music and stories of Lincoln.

Dr. Caldwell Preaches.

Dr. L. D. Caldwell, of Upper Sandusky, presiding elder of the Columbus district of the Evangelical church, preached at the Bellefontaine Avenue Evangelical church Sunday morning and at the Greenwood Evangelical church Sunday evening. He will hold a quarterly conference at the Greenwood street church Thursday evening.

Next Sunday the Greenwood street church will observe the seventh anniversary of the organization of its church and Sunday-school and at that time a financial statement will be given the congregation.

First of Series.

Dr. J. D. Darling preached the first of a series of sermons, Sunday morning at the Wesley M. E. church, taking for his subject, "A Royal Host." Communion was distributed at the morning service. In the evening Dr. Darling spoke on the theme "A Great Separation." He was assisted in the evening service by Rev. J. M. Jones, of Worthington, and W. D. Ridenour.

On Seeing Visions.

Elder G. A. Snider, of Lima, spoke on "Seeing Visions," Sunday evening, at the Church of the Brethren. The members of the Christian Workers' society of the church gave a program and Miss Agnes Tice and Msis Elinor Thompson sang a duet.

Sunbeam Class.

The following officers were elected at the first meeting of the sunbeam class, of the Central Christian church, Saturday afternoon, at the home of the teacher, Mrs. P. H. Rubins, of Hane avenue; Victor Gillis, president; Josephine Stafford, vice president; Ruth Hartrum, secretary; Ruth Coleman, corresponding secretary; Doris Martin, treasurer. It was decided to hold a meeting the third Saturday of each month, the next one being held March 19, at the home of Ruth Hartrum, of Pearl street. Mrs. Rubins was assisted in entertaining the class by Mrs. Edward Hartrum. The afternoon was passed with games and contests and a buffet lunch was served in keeping with Washington's birthday.

Live-Wire Class.

Miss Avouelle Merchant was hostess to the members of the Live-Wire class of the Central Christian church, Saturday afternoon, at her home on Leader street. A social hour was enjoyed and in a contest the award was given to Miss Lillian Griffith.

Revival Is Closed.

The evangelistic meetings which have been in progress for the past two weeks at the Forest Lawn Presbyterian church closed last night with the communion service.

There has been a very deep interest through all the meetings and last night the church was crowded for the closing service.

The choir rendered excellent music and the solo by Mrs. J. W. McNeal and also the solo by Ralph Kinney were very much enjoyed.

As a result of the meeting fifty persons were welcomed into the membership of the church last night.

Sixteen adults and thirteen children received the ordnance of baptism.

Rev. Mr. Brice spoke very briefly of the institution of the Lord's supper and of the Savior's command "Do this in remembrance of Me," after which the ordinance was observed by many of those who were present.

The pastor announced that evangelistic service would be conducted each Wednesday evening at 7:30 until the Easter service.

Sunday at Calvary Church.

All who were present at the services at Calvary church Sunday will agree that in many respects it was the greatest day the new church has seen thus far. During the services of the day twenty-five persons presented themselves at the altar. At the morning service the pastor, Rev. C. L. Allen preached on the theme, "Every Man in His Place," and Mr. Reep sang "No Disappointments in Heaven." At the men's meeting in the afternoon Rev. J. B. Isaac, of Columbus, spoke to a crowded audience of men on the theme "The Speechless Man." Mr. Reep also sang a solo.

At the service last night the large auditorium was crowded and many overflowed into the Sunday-school auditorium. Rev. Baker preached the sermon on the theme "I am the way, the truth, and the life." Mr. Reep sang, "The Holy City" and "Jesus Will Save." An after-service followed the main service, in which the old-time shouts of victory were heard. There will be services this evening this week at 7:30 o'clock.

At Fite Memorial Church.

At the Fite Memorial Baptist church, Sunday, Rev. A. G. Annette preached an interesting sermon, at the morning service on "Willing Workers." Ten new members were received at the close of the service.

There were two conversions at the evening service.

Will Attend Columbus Convention.

Several churches of this county will send their ministers a delegate to the interdenominational pastors convention in Columbus Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, March 1, 2 and 3. Pastors from this county who expect to attend the convention include: E. H. Curtis, Martel; F. E. Hawes, Marion; A. F. Beery, Marion; L. J. Donce, Caledonia, and A. L. Scherry, Marion.

The convention has been called by the Ohio Federation of Churches as a step in preparation for the state wide interdenominational campaign of evangelism which is to be conducted this spring.

Several nationally known religious leaders will speak. Among the speakers are: Rev. James M. Taylor, noted Methodist Episcopal minister of Pittsburgh; Bishop William F. Anderson, Methodist Episcopal, of Cincinnati; Bishop Frank DuMoulin of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Northern Ohio, Cleveland; Gypsey Smith, noted evangelist, who is conducting a campaign in Columbus; Rev. Jesse M. Bader, of St. Louis, secretary of the evangelistic commission of the Disciples of Christ; Rev. F. L. Fagley, of New York, secretary of the Congregational evangelistic commission; Rev. F. Q. Blanchard, Congregational pastor of Cleveland; Rev. John L. Forte, of Louisville, Kentucky, author of the "unit system" for personal evangelistic work in the Methodist Episcopal church; Rev. O. C. Weist, pastor of Grandview Community church, Columbus; President W. O. Thompson, of Ohio State university; President Walter G. Clippinger, of Otterbein college; President J. Knox Montgomery, of Muskingum college, and Rev. Moses Breeze, Presbyterian minister of Columbus.

THE RAILROADS

Five cars were destroyed by fire and six cars derailed in the wreck of an Erie eastbound freight at Pavonia, early Sunday morning. The wreck was due to the train breaking in two and the sections coming together. A car of oil in the train was near the break and the throwing of the oil on the cars added to the blaze. Both tracks were blocked and trains Nos. 3 and 5 had to detour.

Erie train No. 3, this morning, was over two and a half hours late on account of the snow storms in New York state.

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, occupied a private car on Erie train No. 5, Sunday, enroute to Jersey City.

R. S. Parsons general manager of the Erie, and party, occupied a special car on train No. 7, Sunday night, enroute to Chicago.

More Reductions.

Pittsburgh, Feb. 21.—The Joseph Seep purchasing agency here, at 9:30 o'clock, this morning, announced further crude-oil price reductions. Pennsylvania is cut fifty cents, to $3.25. The following three grades are cut twenty-five cents, the new prices being: Cabell, $1.96; Somerset, heavy, $1.75; Somerset, light, $2.00. Ragland is cut fifteen cents, to $1.00. New prices are in effect immediately.

YULICK TOLD HE MUST SPEND LIFE IN PRISON

Unless Governor of State Pardons Him.

MOUSER SAYS IN PASSING SENTENCE ON MURDERER

"And Governors Do Not Pardon Guilty Men," Court Adds. Prisoner Breaks.

Judge Grant E. Mouser this morning sentenced May Yulick, Austrian, to pass the remainder of his life in the Ohio penitentiary in Columbus for the murder of Elmer Edwards at the Scioto power plant of the Columbus, Delaware & Marion Electric company last December. Yulick was found guilty of murder in the first degree, with a recommendation for mercy, by a jury in the common pleas court Friday night, after a trial lasting three days.

Prior to pronouncing sentence, Judge Mouser severely scored Yulick for his crime and brought the first display of emotion the prisoner has shown since the trial began. The Austrian stood before the bar and muttered an answer to one or two questions asked by the judge. At times he bowed his head and once or twice brushed a tear from his cheek.

Judge Calls Him Back.

Yulick's emotion was more noticeable when he started to leave the court-room. When sentence had been pronounced he raised his eyes and muttered something, which appeared to be "thank you," to the judge, and started away. At the request of Judge Mouser, his counsel called him back. He laid his hat on a table and walked to the bar, where the judge shook hands and told the prisoner goodby. With his head down, Yulick again started away and would have left his hat had his attention not been called to it.

Through counsel, the prisoner said he had nothing to say further than his story told in the trial, when asked by the court if he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced against him. In answer to a question from the court, Yulick said he did not realize what he did when he struck Edwards. He did not answer and appeared not to understand when the court asked if he realized the gravity of his offense.

Hand of the Law.

"In this great land of liberty and law, the home of freedom and opportunity, men come from all the countries of the world to be naturalized and become a part of its citizenship," Judge Mouser told the prisoner. "The law deals very considerately with all and it deals justly and fairly with men who commit crimes.

"If you had committed this brutal murder in your country, you would have been taken into court in irons and placed in a cage during your trial.

"If you had not committed this crime you could have become a naturalized citizen, you could have married and enjoyed a home of your own."

"That is what I intended to do last Christmas," Yulick interrupted.

"Instead of enjoying the sunshine of liberty and a home, as a result of your crime you will be confined to prison for the period of your natural life.

"I was impressed that probably you had been so cold blooded you had to resort to some story to try to excuse your act. I trust you haven't added perjury to the crime of murder. You have been capably defended and have had a fair trial.

Had He But Remembered.

"You spoke of your mother being a good Christian woman who taught you your prayers and the Commandments. You have committed one of the most heinous crimes ever perpetrated in Marion county. If one of those prayers your mother taught you, or the Commandment 'Thou shalt not kill' had been remembered by you, you would have stopped and would now be working and could have gratified your ambition to become a good citizen, marry and, by toil, have a home."

Judge Mouser spoke of the men who worked with Yulick and who testified during the trial. He paid a tribute to their high standard and voiced his judgment that they told the truth in testifying.

"Jury Very Good to You."

"The law must be enforced to restrain those disposed to break it," the court continued. "If the jury had voted first degree murder without a recommendation for clemency, I would have refused to grant a new trial and would have sentenced you to be electrocuted. The jury was very good to you."

Details of the crime as recounted on the witness stand were recalled by the judge.

"When you go to the penitentiary," Judge Mouser said, "get down on your knees and ask your God, the God of your mother and the God of us all, for forgiveness.

"It is the sentence of this court that you be confined in the Ohio penitentiary during your natural life. You will not be able to escape without proving your innocence, and that is impossible, now that you have confessed to the crime. Your only chance for freedom is for some governor to pardon you, and governors do not pardon guilty men."

THE HUB OF COMMERCE.

It must have been something of a shock to Alexander Howat to discover that he was not exempt from the operation of the law.

Considering all the circumstances, hasn't Berlin been a bit slow about divulging this secret-promises business?

As we get the situation, Judge Landis has not transgressed the law—simply been somewhat indiscreet.

From reports of Gipsy Smith's utterances, it looks at this distance as though he didn't have an exalted opinion of the spiritual and moral make-up of the Columbus citizenship.

Anyway, nobody will ever be able to claim that the administration wasn't generous with the public's money.

As the returns come in, they make manifest that Toledo isn't any half-measure town, even in the matter of mail robberies.

Anyway the low necks, the bobbed skirts and the sheer stockings the girls are wearing will have a tendency to make us mighty skeptical the next time we read a story about somebody dying of exposure.

There are apparently a good many first aids to the dry, but about the only way permanent relief can be secured at a normal price is for each sufferer to take a course in medicine and become his own prescription writer.

If it were no more than the exception to prove the rule, it's queer the mail bandits, apparently instinctively, are able to dodge the sacks containing the bills.

We may be a bit old-fashioned, but we are unalterably of the opinion that the war department should accept as true that overseas veteran's statement that it is in error in its contention that he is dead.

"How do you look upon money?" asks an exchange. To be candid about the thing we aren't able to retain it long enough to give it more than a glance.

Who knows? The girls who wear the extreme skirts may go on the theory that it's a duty they owe themselves to make the utmost of their best features.

We assume that the men sent around by the government to assist in the making out of income tax returns is to obviate the charge of violation of the constitutional inhibition against cruel and unusual punishments.

If Henry Ford were gotten off into a corner he might be forced to confess that the Hebrews haven't succeeded in capturing all the world's wealth; that a generous portion of it was exchanged for flivvers.

HAVE MUCH IN COMMON.

The world may look for a far more stable government along the Spanish main in the future, with the joining of Guatemala, Honduras, Salvador and Costa Rica in the United States of Central America. The treaty of San Jose, recently signed, caused not much comment. The central Americans are going ahead without fireworks, forming a federation of states based in the main on the form of government of the United States.

Nicaragua is the only Central American state which has seen fit to demur, and her holding out is not hostile. She will wait until the new government is actually functioning and then, in all probability, will go in. It is an encouraging sign when these small neighbor states of ours, with language, traditions and customs in common, and really not much to separate them save imaginary boundaries, have seen fit to be welded into one stronger government.

The new history of Central America will not be so picturesque, but it will probably be far less turbulent than that of the last half century.

HOUSING OUR DIPLOMATS.

The "own your own home" campaign respecting Uncle Sam's foreign residences is gaining headway. Even the Democratic press is lining up for the idea. The New York World recently declared: "It's about time that this country had a diplomatic service that paid its own way right to the top instead of depending upon the private pocketbooks of wealthy appointees to keep up the credit of the United States among the ambassadors and ministers of other nations." The World was approving the acceptance by congress of the Morgan house in London as a residence for the American embassy.

The Charlotte Observer, Democratic, declares that if "foreigners gain an opinion of our country and our people from the sort of establishments that our government maintains abroad, we should not be surprised if it were a mighty poor one."

The Anaconda Standard, Democratic, inquires: "Were there not always enough American millionaires? Let them have expensive luxuries, do the honors and foot the bills—that has been the congressional theory and practice for years. It isn't democracy—but what is democracy between friends?"

It might not be amiss to remind the Standard that congressional theory is generally based on public attitude. If the public demands decent foreign residences for our officials, congress will make provision for them.

The Springfield, Missouri, Leader, Democratic, suggests that "possibly it is all right to send only rich men abroad as ambassadors, but under that rule Franklin, our greatest ambassador, would have been excluded."

Naturally, men receiving $10,000 to $17,500 salary, and being taked in some instances $20,000 for the rental of their domiciles abroad must be pretty well supplied with money if they are able to carry on as foreign representatives of this nation.

The Wheeling Intelligencer, Republican, handles the question in practical fashion when it says: "With foreign exchange as low as it now is, congress should appropriate sufficient money to purchase a suitable embassy residence in every important capital."

It has been estimated that $15,000,000 would supply every foreign diplomatic official and United States consulate, where needed, with a first-class residence and an office equipment, including a place for the government archives.

At least the press is awaking to the merits of the case, and with insistence, the country will be aroused to petition congress for action.

That congress is already in sympathy with the movement is evidenced by the fact that the house has passed and sent to the senate the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill. The measure contains an item authorizing the acceptance from Mr. J. P. Morgan of the gift of his London residence for use as an American embassy, and also an appropriation of $150,000 for the purchase in Paris of a house suitable for an embassy. It is claimed that if the purchase is made now a building worth about $150,000 can be obtained, due to the depreciation in the value of French currency.

"I see that Mr. Gompers is dissatisfied some more with congress," observed the restaurant philosopher at lunch today. "It's a wonder to me that congress doesn't just about give up hope of ever being able to please Samuel."

The man who suggests a law to prevent the seed people from amplifying the size of the vegetables pictured in their catalogues may mean well, but wouldn't it kill the best part of home gardening—the pleasure we get from anticipation?

Holdups may be roughly classed as real, or Marion county, and the first question asked now is was he short or did he have a note due at the bank?—Columbus Dispatch

LIFE'S VAUDEVILLE.

[By James Hall Naylor]

A GOOD CREED.

Harold Arnold Walters thus metrically voices his creed:

I would be true—for there are those that trust me;
I would be pure—for there are those who care;
I would be strong—for there is much to suffer;
I would be brave—for there is much to dare.
I would be friend of all—the foe—the friendless;
I would be giving—and forget the gift;
I would be humble—for I know my weakness;
I would look up—and love—and laugh—and lift.

"I would be true."

And, first of all—one must be true to one's self.

Be true to yourself; "and it must follow, as the night the day—thou canst not then be false to any man."

Be true to yourself.

Be true to your ideals—to your duties and responsibilities. Live up to the best that is in you—the best you can live up to it.

Be true to the trust that others put in you—true to your pledges and promises—true to those who love and respect you.

"I would be pure."

But purity doesn't mean priggery or prudery.

Purity means simply physical, mental and moral cleanliness—ordinary cleanliness.

Keep yourself clean; but don't assume a self-righteous and offensible superiority.

"I would be strong."

But strong to help—not to hinder; strong to aid—not to oppress; strong to build—not to tear down; strong to create—not to destroy.

I would be strong in the service of others, as well as in the service of self.

"I would be brave."

Yes, it is well to be brave; but it is not well to be rash or reckless.

It is well to be brave to do the right—but not to do the wrong.

And it requires much more courage to do the right than it does to do the wrong.

"I would be a friend of all."

That's a hard thing to do; but we should try to do it, doubtless. It's easy, some times, to be a friend to a friend; but it's hard, always, to be a friend to a foe. Still we should be willing and ready to show true friendship to the truly repentant foe—to that foe, at least. Heaven help us—we all need friendship—real friendship! How rare it is! How common it should be!

"I would be giving—and forget the gift."

That is: render service—and forget it; furnish aid—and keep no account of it. In other words: Be truly unselfish and charitable.

"I would be humble."

Humble—yes. But not as a whining, sycophantic, hypocritical Uriah Heep; but rather as simple-souled, honest individual—who feels his own unworthiness.

"I would look up—and love—and laugh—and lift."

I would look up—but not stumble; I would love—but wisely; I would laugh—but in mirth, not in scorn; I would lift—but not for those who can easily bear their own burdens.

A good creed.

MISS BLUELAWS.

There was an ancient girl—
And she had a little whirl
In the wheels right back of her forehead;
And she thought herself so good—
As a perfect person should:—
So very, very good she was horrid.

She climbed, because she could,
To the churchtop—and she stood
Triple on the peak of the steeple;
She pleaded and she preached—
She wept and wailed and screeched
About the many, many sins of the people

The people heard her voice
And, because they had no choice,
They listened—but never thanked her;
They hurried up the stairs,
And caught her unawares,
And spanked her—Lord, how they spanked her!

CITY IN BRIEF

No Mail Delivered Tomorrow—Washington's birthday will be observed tomorrow in the local post office and there will be no city or rural deliveries. The banks will also be closed.

Stolen Bike Is Found—The bicycle of Henry Van Gorden, of Blaine avenue, which was stolen from west Church street last Friday evening, was found by the police on Mill street, Sunday night, and returned to the owner.

Bicycle Is Stolen—Mrs. G. A. Starner, of Windsor street, reported to the police, Saturday evening, that her son's bicycle was stolen from the corner of Pearl and Columbia streets about 6 o'clock. She described the bicycle as being an Envoy make with a blue frame.

Attend Detroit Funeral—Mrs. William Pfeiffer and son, William, of east George street, have returned from Detroit, where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Harry Reber, a sister of Mrs. Pfeiffer, which was held Saturday. Her death followed an operation for appendicitis.

George Walker Fined—George Walker, colored, appeared before the mayor, Saturday evening, to answer an affidavit filed against him by Chief J. W. Thompson charging him with depositing the contents of a vault on a lot on Adams street. Walker pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $25.

Monroe Welker Dismissed—Monroe Welker, arrested over a week ago on a charge of trespassing, the affidavit being filed against him by Frank Schofield, was dismissed after a hearing in the mayor's court, Saturday afternoon. It developed that the drive which Welker was using had been used jointly and no property line was established.

Back from Mansfield—O. H. Carrier, Y. M. C. A. secretary; W. H. Husung, assistant secretary, and wife; Frank Glosser, president of the Y. M. C. A. board, and E. K. Uhler, member of the board of trustees, returned home Sunday evening from Mansfield, where they attended the State Y. M. C. A. convention which was in session February 18, 19 and 20 at the Y. M. C. A. building at that place.

Two Building Permits—Two building permits were issued by the city clerk, last week, one being taken out by C. E. Bemberger for a garage on Mound street at an estimated cost of $50 and the other by Orville M. Baker, of Herman street, for a residence addition at a cost of $... L. L. Donough, of Bellevue avenue, secured a permit this morning for the construction of a garage at an estimated cost of $200.

Trio Soaked for Theft—Albert Owens, George Hilbert and Jack Kirk, arrested Friday afternoon on charge of stealing personal belongings from the car of S. Yabushita, employed at the Erie transfer, entered pleas of guilty when arraigned before Mayor T. E. Andrews for hearing, Saturday afternoon. The mayor reserved his decision until this morning when he fined them each $25 and costs and sentenced them to thirty days in the Dayton workhouse.

A Small Fire—The home of Mrs. Anna Foreman, of No. 223 Holmes Place, was badly damaged by fire shortly before 10 o'clock this morning. The blaze started on the roof by sparks from the chimney. Departments Nos. 1 and 2 responded to the alarm and the blaze had gained such good headway that a line of hose was laid. Most of the roof was burned off and some damage resulted from water and smoke. A fire from the same cause occured at the home January 18, but was extinguished before much damage was done.

AGREE TO ACCEPT BONDS OF GERMANY

Will Take Them from Belgium for War Debt.

London, Feb. 21.—The United States, British and French governments have agreed to accept German bonds in lieu of Belgium's war debt, it was announced in the house of commons, this afternoon, by Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer.

It would appear from the above announcement that the American, British and French governments have mutually agreed to cancel Belgium's financial obligations, incurred during the war. This is the first allied war debt to be annulled.

SAMUEL PHILLIPS BURIED IN ADA CEMETERY TODAY

Onion Grower Well Known Here Dies in Florida.

C. E. Scribner left today for Ada to attend the funeral of Mrs. Scribner's father, Samuel Phillips, a well-known onion grower of that vicinity, who died in Florida last Thursday from complications resulting from throat trouble.

The Ammann Hardware company, in which Mr. Scribner is a partner, was closed today from 2 to 4 p. m., the hours of the funeral.

Mr. Phillips was very well known in Marion. He was seventy-two years of age and leaves four daughters and one son. Two daughters, Mrs. Scribner and Miss Mildred Phillips, reside in this city. Mr. Phillips' wife died thirty-five years ago.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY IS PRONOUNCED SUCCESS

"Dido" Staged in Departmental School Auditorium.

WHICH IS FILLED FOR SHOW ON SATURDAY EVENING

Miss Miriam Smart Stars as the Carthaginian Queen, Dido, a Most Difficult Role.

Saturday evening, a large audience which more than filled the departmental school auditorium, enjoyed "Dido," a play given by the Latin department of the Harding High school, which proved to be a great success. The play was highly successful in all its various phases, ranging from the dances drill and music to the play proper.

The program opened with a synopsis of the story given by Miss Dora Bondies. Following this Miss Martha Bailey sang a prelude in Latin. The play proper began with a scene in the temple of Carthage, the arrival of Aeneas and his followers at Carthage and the scene in the royal court of the Carthaginian queen, Dido. A classic dance was given at this time by the Carthaginian maidens. Scene two was staged before the temple featuring the meeting of Venus and Cupid. The next was the famous banquet scene in Dido's palace which is so elaborately described in the "Aeneid." Music and dances were given in this scene by the Carthaginian maidens and the court entertainers.

In Dido's Palace.

Act two, scene one, took place in Dido's palace and at this time the plot of the story is drawn into the climax, with Dido's suspicions of the unfaithful Aeneas. The next scene was in the Palace garden, where Mercury, messenger of Jupiter, warns Aeneas and tells him to flee from Carthage. Dido overhears the conversation and thereupon learns of the Trojan leader's plans and realizes her own peril.

Act three takes place in the temple of Dido, the Carthaginian queen after a night of hopeless despair over the Trojan ships leaving her shores and her wrongs unavenged. She decides upon her fate and finds a way to end it all by means of the dagger which Aeneas left with her. The play ended with a grand finale including the entire cast.

All Deserve Credit.

All of the players carried out their part exceedingly well and are to be congratulated, but special credit and praise must go to the two leading characters, Aeneas and Dido. Miss Miriam Smart, who took the part of the Carthaginian queen, Dido, played her part excellently. Difficult as was her role, Miss Smart handled it in an admirable manner, displaying excellent dramatic ability coupled with a perfect poise and ease which is so often lacking in the amateur. The success of the play was largely due to the success of her role. Fred Almendinger taking the part of Aeneas, held up the other main character in a fine way, making an excellent match in ability to Miss Smart in the handling of his part.

Miss Ola Almendinger and Miss Corinne Rosebrook the directors of the production are deserving of credit for their successful efforts, while the drills and dances under the supervision of Miss Rachael McAfee were highly appreciated and enjoyed. The high school orchestra under Miss Taylor also comes in for its share in the success.

GEORGE ANSON WILL MEET RED YOUNG HERE TONIGHT

Eagles To Stage Boxing Carnival at the Armory.

GEORGE ANSON.

The stage is all set for the boxing carnival to be put on by the local lodge of Eagles at the armory tonight. Admission will be by membership card, while an invitation has been extended to the city officials.

The main bout will be eight rounds between "Red" Young, of the Pacific coast, and George Anson, of Marion, and on the result of this bout will rest the championship welterweight honors of Ohio. Anson who has been boxing under the name of Henson, has had his headquarters at Lima, and has met some of the best boxers in the state in his class.

To work the fans up to a high pitch for the main bout, three preliminaries have been arranged. The first will be between two young local boys. The second match will be four rounds at 112 pounds between Young Kemple, of Bowling Green and Indian Holland, of Lima. The third will be six rounds at 128 pounds between Tommy Muras, of Lima, and Gooch Masterpool, of Alliance. The latter match should be about as exciting as the main bout, as Masterpool has defeated some of the best boxers of his class in the state.

The Lima ring artists arrived in the city, this morning, and all are in the best condition and have kept in training constantly. The first of the preliminaries will start at 8:15 o'clock.

Mail Clerk Shot by Bandit.

Minneapolis, Feb 21.—C. J. Strong, mail clerk, who was shot three times when a lone bandit held up a mail car on train No. 2, Northern Pacific railroad, is still in a critical condition, with his recovery very doubtful. The amount of loot obtained by the robber had not been determined, but unofficially it was said it probably would not exceed $100,000.

City Fireman Killed.

Cleveland, Feb. 21.—William Haley, 25, a city fireman, fell from a hose wagon while answering an alarm. He died in a hospital from a fractured skull without gaining consciousness.

David Wark Griffith, whose film productions have made him famous the world over, began his career as a stage "super."

EAGLES' ANNIVERSARY CLASS NUMBERS 126

Following the Initiation Banquet Is Enjoyed.

A COLUMBUS DEGREE TEAM CONFERS WORK

Special Meeting of Canby Pythion Lodge—Arrange for a Pig Roost.

In observance of the eighteenth anniversary of Buckeye Aerie No. 337, Fraternal Order of Eagles, the local lodge held a special meeting, Sunday afternoon, for the initiation of the anniversary class. The class consisted of 126 candidates including fifteen from Delaware and four from Mt. Gilead. Visitors were in attendance from nearly all of the surrounding cities.

The members and visitors met at the Eagles' hall and headed by the local Eagle drum corps and the Galion degree team, a parade was held through the principle streets to the Elks' hall. The initiation work was put on by the Galion degree staff and the local officers and was followed by addresses by E. L. Hyneman, of Columbus, state secretary, and C. F. Else, of Galion, past state president, these talks being on the good of the order.

Following the meeting in the Elks' hall, a banquet was enjoyed in Schwinger's hall, covers being laid for about 750. During the banquet a pleasing musical program was rendered by McNeal's orchestra. It was the largest meeting and class ever taken in by the local lodge and the degree team and officers were highly complimented by the visitors on the work.

Columbus Degree Team.

Canby Lodge, No. 51, Knights of Pythias, held a special meeting, Saturday evening, when the degree team of Crestview Lodge, No. 576, of Columbus, conferred the rank of knight on a class of five candidates.

Preceding the meeting and work a banquet was served in the lodge hall at 6:30 o'clock, the spread being prepared and served by members of Canby Temple, No. 152, Pythian Sisters. During the banquet an orchestra composed of four girls rendered a pleasing program of vocal and instrumental music. Covers were laid for about 285.

Two applications for membership were received. There were over fifty present from the Columbus lodge and some visitors from other nearby places. The Columbus team put on the work in excellent style, being assisted with the orchestra of Columbus lodge.

United Commercial Travelers.

Members of the United Commercial Travelers, at their regular meeting Saturday night, arranged for a pig roast and initiation of a class of candidates in the I. O. O. F. hall Saturday night, March 19. The work will be conferred by the Columbus degree team and a number of speakers from the grand lodge will be present.

MILLWRIGHT DECLARES NUXITE HAS GIVEN HIM A NEW LEASE ON LIFE

COULD HARDLY ATTEND TO HIS WORK

Roberts Now Feels Better Than for Some Time and Is Full of New Life and Energy.

"I honestly feel it is my duty as well as a pleasure to make the following statement to the people of Marion, states Mr. Johnson Roberts, employed as a millwright at the Ohio Steel company, Lima, Ohio, living at 820 Franklin street. Before taking Nuxite I was in very bad health, but since taking it I feel greatly improved and better than for years. I had typhoid fever in the very worst form, settled in my knee, then left my knee and went to my back. I was so sore and stiff in my limbs and back it was almost impossible for me to get about. My stomach bothered me quite a lot, seemed weak, sharp pains across the back and chest, did not feel good at any time, in other words, I was miserable and did not rest well at night. I was very nervous at times would roll and toss about in the bed; to tell the truth, I was in a pretty bad shape. That was my condition when I began taking Nuxite. Two bottles has done me more good than all the medicine I ever used. I just feel full of life and energy, my system is getting in good shape again, I am sleeping fine every night. Nuxite has proven a great benefit to me, because it contains certain medicinal properties which combat these troubles. I can recommend Nuxite to any one that may suffer as I did."

The Nuxite Mr. Roberts refers to is being explained at Schmidt's Drug Store, by W. R. Cooper.—Adv.

TRADE REPORTS ARE ENCOURAGING

Business Expected To Be Much Better in Spring.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Confidence that business conditions from now on will show a gradual improvement was expressed in a business review issued by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Prepared by Archer Wall Douglas, chairman of the chamber's committee of statistics and standards, the review stated the most convincing evidence that we are on the high road to recovery is found in the universal report from every section of the country of steadily growing sentiment that business will be better in the spring."

The review predicted there would not be a sudden return to prosperity, but a "slow and natural working out of those processes of liquidation which are now in full operation."

In another statement issued by the chamber of commerce Joseph H. Defrees, its president, urged passage by congress of the budget bill. It will be impossible under the present wasteful appropriation system, Mr. Defrees said, to bring about the economy and efficiency in public business which he said the country is demanding.

SAYS FRENCH MUST NOT BE MOCKED

Poincare Asserts Germany Must Pay Obligation.

Paris, Feb. 21.—The council of the league of nations began its sessions here today.

Publicity of the proceedings of the council will be one of the first questions discussed in accordance with the resolution passed by the assembly of the league of nations at Geneva. The working sessions of the council will be private.

Former President Poincare in a statement here declares that Germany must meet the demands made upon her by the reparations committee.

"If Germany refuses to accept the demands made at the Paris conference," says M. Poincare, "then the Versailles treaty automatically comes into force. It is impossible that a third bill of costs can be drawn up at London. The French government can count upon the firm determination of both chambers of parliament to reject any further delays that Germany may claim concerning the penalties and also obtain from our allies full indorsement of France's demands. We do not wish Germany to weep but we have a right to demand that she does not mock us."

John McEntee Bowman, who at forty-five controls a dozen or so of America's most magnificent hotels started his career in New York state as an odd-job man in a country tavern.

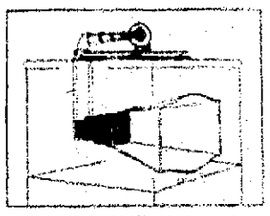
The CHENEY

MODEL NO. 9 WILLIAM AND MARY—ONE OF THE CHENEY PERIOD DESIGN CABINETS

Irresistibly Rhythmic, Steady Dance Music

Compensating Spring Motor used in THE CHENEY

The CHENEY builds its own motor with two separate coil springs that keep the speed of the turntable absolutely even. The rhythm and pitch are thus kept the same throughout. Every part of THE CHENEY motor is so accurately made and tested in the CHENEY factories that its running is practically noiseless.



CHENEY ORCHESTRAL CHAMBER

Your feet can hardly hold still while THE CHENEY plays a lively dance record. It has "the swing," the lilt, the persuasion, that makes it such pleasure to dance to real music.

There is no trouble "keeping time to the music" when the time is kept so steady by THE CHENEY motor. You will find genuine enjoyment in dancing without the actual orchestra.

For THE CHENEY plays with both rhythm and volume. Let us show you how THE CHENEY tone adjuster, reproducer, tone arm, acoustic throat, orchestral chambers and violin resonator all help make its music ideal for dancing and general entertainment. If you cannot call, write us for the interesting CHENEY booklet.

Holding A Husband

BY ADELE GARRISON.

"There! Ladies of the chi Here is the place of which I was speaking. It is all in one of the most beautiful places in this whole section.

Mr. Jone[s] threw out his hand with a regal gesture as if he were bestowing the title deed of the property. I stopped the car in front of the gateway to which he was pointing, but before I looked toward the property he was holding [illegible] glanced at my speedometer, and made a mental comparison with the number it had indicated when we started from the real estate office. 'Two miles and a half.' I wonder how many miles from the station the gifted Mr. Jones would reckon it when he touched upon that angle of his sales talk.

"How much is there of it?" I heard but Mr Jones now as valuable as had been fed him in the beginning

[illegible] question and [illegible] ing head to an exact description of its neighborhood

[illegible] one of the most beautiful [illegible] country, to confirm it. Mr [illegible] Almont's name is a social asset [illegible] town.'

I looked in the direction he indicated, but saw nothing except a stretch of pasture land.

I [illegible] not see. I began

'On dear not the house not just yet,' he said, as if something in my question had shocked him. 'If the house were across the road the property would be doubled in value. It is the pasture across the road you should see. Mr. Almont's blooded stock kept here in the summer.'

'How do you determine the relative value to prospective buyers of the privilege of looking at Mr. Almont's blooded stock, and his more or less blooded family?' Lillian asked innocently.

'Eh? What? Oh yes? Ha quite good.' Mr. Jones laughed loudly, but there was a hollow ring in it and I knew that our social stock had sunk abysmally within the last minute.

'Which is the Almont house?' I asked.

'That big yellow one down there.' He pointed to a rambling barn like structure several rods down the road.

Gillian and I exchanged glances, turned simultaneously and looked at it earnestly.

'If I had a house opposite to that thing,' she said vehemently at last, 'and has no other view from my front windows, I should move my house or tear it down.'

She was in the truculent mood which always comes to her when something offends her artistic sense. Mr. Jones gazed at her with the respectful but alarmed curiosity which a man generally gives to any unusual specimen of that species which Kipling has assured us is "deadlier than the male." I think he was a trifle uncertain whether she means to advance with vandal intent upon the Almont home, or turn and rend him for daring to admire it.

I hastened to oil the troubled waters.

"Look at the shade trees of this property, Lillian,' I said. 'Aren't they wonderful? What must they be when they are in leaf?'

She paid them the tribute of a long look which ended abruptly in a gesture of intense annoyance as the irrepressible Mr. Jones struck in.

"You should see the shrubbery in the summer! Wonderful roses! Beautiful peonies! Gorgeous perennials!"

"Ma, we see where the beds are!" I demanded, everything else forgotten.

"Certainly." He led the way to the side of the really large and beautiful lawn.

Lillian plucked at my sleeve as we followed.

"Remember your weakness, Madge," she smiled. "You know you always rent or buy a fireplace and a flower garden, with never a thought to the plumbing or foundation walls."

"You're just plain stealing from Dicky," I laughed back, following Mr. Jones to a long flower bed at the side of the lawn, covered with straw.

"The perennials are here," he said. "The roses cover the verandas."

I had expected an old-fashioned garden with a sundial and winding paths, the ideal of my dreams which I had just begun to realize at Marvin. This long, prim bed chilled my ardor. I looked at the verandas, along the pillars of which the rose bushes were climbing, and saw that the house held no possibilities of remodelling to my taste. It was finished as it was, a fairly large structure of the deadly mid-Victorian period, with verandas across the entire front and at one side, with fretted jig-saw work ornamenting its cornices, and with bay windows jutting out everywhere.

"Every modern improvement," Mr

FOR SKIN TORTURES

Zemo, the Clean, Antiseptic Liquid, Just What You Need. Is Not Greasy

Don't worry about eczema or other skin troubles. You can have a clear, healthy skin by using Zemo, obtained at any drug store for 35c, or extra large bottle at $1.00.

Zemo generally removes pimples, blackheads, blotches, eczema and ringworm and makes the skin clear and healthy. Zemo is a clean, penetrating, antiseptic liquid, neither sticky nor greasy and stains nothing. It is easily applied and costs a mere trifle for each application. It is always dependable.

In skin troubles, ordinary soaps are irritating and liable to aggravate the condition. Use Zemo soap. It is antiseptic, soothing, and hastens the process of healing.

WOMAN SICK FOUR YEARS

Was Finally Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Steens, Miss.—"I was all run down and nervous with female trouble and my sides pained me so at times that I could hardly walk. I suffered for four years with it. Then I saw your advertisement in the paper and began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I feel stronger and am able to do most of my housework now. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends and you may use this letter if you care to do so."—Mrs. W. H. BLAKE, Route 1, Steens, Miss.

How many women, overworked, tired and ailing, keep up the ceaseless treadmill of their daily duties until they are afflicted with female troubles as Mrs. Blake was, and are run down, weak and nervous. But every such woman should be convinced by the many letters like hers which we are constantly publishing, proving beyond question that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will overcome such troubles and restore women to normal health and strength. Letters about your health will be given careful attention and held in strict confidence if you write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a safe but sure liver and bowel tonic. They act on the liver in a manner entirely different. The entire vegetable ingredients are the result of Dr. Edwards' experience in not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effect. They don't injure the teeth like strong doses of calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. While cure the liver at the expense of the teeth. Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, dullness, and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "logy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

Rheumatism Comes From Tiny Pain Germs

First of all, get it firmly fixed in your mind that all the liniments in the world have no effect whatever on Rheumatism.

A very common form of Rheumatism is caused by millions of tiny disease germs which infest the blood. The one and only sensible treatment, therefore, is one which cleanses the blood of these germs, and routs them entirely out of the circulation.

This is why S.S.S., the greatest known blood purifier is so successful in the treatment of Rheumatism. It is a powerful cleanser of the blood, and will remove the disease germs that cause your Rheumatism, affording relief that is genuine.

S.S.S. is sold by all druggists. Free literature and medical advice can be had by writing to Chief Medical Adviser, 154 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

GARIS' BEDTIME STORIES

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE CANDY CANE.

[BY HOWARD R. GARIS.]

[Copyright 1921, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.]

Once upon a time, as Uncle Wiggily, the bunny rabbit gentleman, was hopping along, wondering what sort of an adventure he would have, he heard a voice calling to him like this:

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily! Uncle Wiggily! Will you please bring me something when you come back?"

Mr. Longears turned and saw Floppy Twistytail, one of the piggie boys, waving a paw out of the window of the pen house.

"What do you want me to bring you, Floppy?" asked the bunny.

"Oh, some candy!" answered the piggie boy, who had two sweet teeth, one on each side of his mouth.

"I'll bring you the sweetest candy I can find," promised Uncle Wiggily with a laugh. Then he hopped on, over the fields covered with snow and through the woods, where long icicles hung from the tree branches.

"I think I'll go to the candy store first and get something for Floppy," said the bunny gentleman to himself. "I may find an adventure there."

Into the candy store he hopped and a nice little mousie girl clerk came out from behind the counter to wait on him.

"Here is something I think Floppy would like," spoke the little mousie girl, holding up a long box.

"What is in it?" asked the bunny gentleman.

"A surprise," answered the little mousie girl. "Don't open it until you get to Floppy's house."

"All right!" promised Uncle Wiggily. So he paid the little mousie girl clerk and, taking the long package in his paw, away he hopped, leaning heavily on his red, white and blue striped barber pole rheumatism crutch. The bunny gentleman's rheumatics were hurting that day.

"I don't know what I'd do without my crutch," he said. "And I'd better be getting back to Nurse Jane and my hollow stump bungalow before the pain grows worse."

Now, while Uncle Wiggily was hippity-hopping along with Floppy's surprise from the candy store the bad old Fox and Wolf came running over the hill. They saw the bunny gentleman going along.

"I know how we can catch Uncle Wiggily," snarled the Wolf.

"How?" barked the Fox.

"I'll run up and take away his crutch," said the Wolf. "I'll grab it, run away and hide it. He has the rheumatism so badly today that he can't walk without his crutch. And when I take it away he can't go any farther, and you can run up and grab him, and nibble his ears. But save some nibbles for me."

"I will," promised the Fox.

So the bad old Wolf got ready, and, when Uncle Wiggily was wondering what Nurse Jane would have nice for his supper, all of a sudden, up behind him jumped the Wolf, grabbing away the bunny's crutch.

"Now he can't get away, Mr. Fox! Rush up and nibble his ears!" howled the Wolf.

But it was so slippery that the Fox could not run up right way, and this gave Uncle Wiggily a chance to get his breath, and to think.

"Oh, how can I get away from the Fox and the Wolf?" the bunny gentleman asked himself. For the Wolf had run on ahead to hide the crutch, and the Fox had not yet come up. "If I only had a stick or something to lean on I might limp to my bungalow before the Fox can get me," thought the poor bunny. "But there isn't a stick in sight! What can I use for a crutch?"

Then he thought of the long thing the candy store mousie girl clerk had given him for Floppy.

"I'll open it and see what it is," said the bunny.

And when Uncle Wiggily opened the box in it was a long red and white, striped peppermint cane. Think of that!"

"Oh, hurray!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "A candy cane! I can lean on that as well as on my crutch! Now I am saved!"

Before the Wolf could run back, and before the Fox could come up, away hopped the bunny, leaning on the candy cane. He safely reached Floppy's house, where he stayed until a policeman dog went and got back the red, white and bluestriped crutch where the Wolf had hidden it.

"I'm glad you brought me a candy cane," grunted Floppy. "Very glad, Uncle Wiggily."

"So am I," said the bunny, as he hopped to his bungalow.

PERCHED ON A HIGH STOOL IN AN OFFICE

Many a Brain Is Trying To Work with Weak, Thin Blood.

MORE RICH, RED BLOOD NEEDED

Pepto-Mangan Gives You the Health To Tackle Your Daily Work with Vigor.

If you sit at a desk all day in an office, whether you are perched on a high stool or seated in an upholstered chair, your body is inactive. You can't get much fresh air and outdoor exercise. Your blood becomes poor. You look pale and feel weak.

The great tonic, Pepto-Mangan, is what you need for awhile. It makes rich, red blood. It restores your vital energy. Your color comes back.

When your blood is good, full of red corpuscles, you are better able to resist disease. You go about your daily work with the optimism of good health.

Try Pepto-Mangan and notice how you improve.

Pepto-Mangan is sold in both liquid and tablet form. Take either kind you prefer. Both have the same medicinal value. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's." The full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" should be on the package.—Adv.

JUBILEE'S PARDNER

When I was milking the cow yesterday morning Butch come and dumb in the manure hole and when I asted him if he got licked for paistling the man with the snowball he said he did. And he let me pull his shirt up in the back and see where he got it, and he had some pretty good ones, but not so bad as I got, because his father does not take the buckle end of the strap to him.

I bet nobody gets licked as bad as I do. There is always a red streck across my back where the strap goes, and at the end of the streck there is a hole in my skin where the buckle comes. If a fella's father would lick him across the stummick he could see the marks easier, but I am glad my father don't. A stummick is offul tender.

We went to Sunday school and everything, but my father would not let me and Jubilee go sliding because Butch paisted the man Saturday. I would like to know who told him.

Tomorrow is Washington's birthday and we do not have any school. He was the father of his country. I think he done pretty well for a fella that never had long pants, but I would rather be a pirut. If I growed up and wore my hair puffed over my ears like George Washington and the girls, I could maybe get to be the father of my country, and if I marry Younise she would probly be the mother of it, but I bet a boy of my size would be usefuller. I would like to see a country that could milk a cow and her dotter and spilt kindling.

After school we all got our sleds and went to the hill and the bump was solid ice, but it is not quite straight and when a fella goes over it it gives one of his runner's a flip that turns him over in the air. When I had been flipped twice and had slid down to the pond on my back with my sled on my stummick I had an idee, and when I was going over the hip the next time I flipped a little bit more and come down on my runners when I had turned over and the bunch thought that was pretty good. It was. Banty was the only other one that could do it.

When Younise come down I told her I would show her something, so I had her get on my sled and I got on with her and gave a flip when we went over the jump, but I did not flip far enough and I come down on top of her, and she got mad at me and went home because she thought I done it on purpose. Butch tried to get Maggie to slide down with him but she wouldn't. When a girl's own brother wants her to slide with him she has aright to know he is going to pull something crooked.

Younise can stay mad if she wants to. I am not going to have anything to do with wimmen any more. And if I have any sons I will bring them up the same way. They get mad at nothing.

But I didn't flip far enough

A fella is never let stay out of school on a great man's birthday unless the man is dead. I would rather they would have to go an extra day on my birthday and then they would be sorry I was dead.

It is getting warmer. My mother only gave me one flattron to take to bed.

Annabel Lee is still creepy.

PROMINENT NEW YORK MAN PRAISES TANLAC

John F. Hyatt, of Albany, N. Y., Is Relieved of Severe Attack of Rheumatism of Many Years' Standing

"I am now seventy-two years old and am just getting rid of fifteen-year case of rheumatism that had me so crippled up I could not walk," said John F. Hyatt, 227 Pearl St., Albany, N. Y., in relating his remarkable experience with Tanlac, recently. Mr. Hyatt was chairman of the committee in charge of building the Albany County Courthouse and was four times elected a member of the County Board of Supervisors. At present Mr. Hyatt is Assistant Superintendent of the Albany County Courthouse, with offices in the building.

"I don't believe," he continued, "anybody could have rheumatism any worse than I did, and my case was of such long standing I didn't expect to ever get over it. I was unable to walk except for a short distance, supported with a cane, and even then the pains struck me every time I took a step. My legs, hips and ankles hurt something awful and my joints were stiff and aching. I couldn't cross my leg without having to lift it up with my hands, and to turn over in bed, why, the pains nearly killed me.

"My appetite was gone and the sight of food nauseated me. My stomach was out of order, and I had a sluggish, heavy feeling all the time. I was weak, off in weight and discouraged so that it looked like I might as well quit trying to ever get well.

"I had no idea Tanlac would relieve my rheumatism when I began taking it last spring. I took it because I saw where it would give a fellow an appetite. Well, sir I was the most surprised I ever was in my life when the rheumatic pains began to ease up. I took seven bottles in all and, it's a fact, I didn't have an ache about me—was eating like and simply felt like I had been made over again.

"I have been in the best of health ever since, with only a slight twinge of rheumatism at intervals. I do not need my cane now, but as I had been unable to walk without it for several years, I got into the habit of carrying it and so still take it along. I am enjoying life and health once more and can conscientiously recommend Tanlac as the greatest medicine I have ever run across in all my experience."

Tanlac is sold in Marion by The Dumbia Pharmacy, in LaRue by Sifritt's Pharmacy and in Waldo by Apt Pharmacy.—Adv.

M'GINNNIS POST SHOW OPENS AT THE GRAND

Principles of American Legion as Soldier Body.

McGinnis Post, No. 105, American legion, gave the first performance of its three day benefit vaudeville show at the Grand theater this afternoon to a large audience. Two performances will be given tonight at the regular hours and the show is to continue through Tuesday and Wednesday, with three performances each day.

Six acts of high class professional vaudeville, a reel of literary digest topics and a Fox comedy from Hoyt Cook in "All Wrong" make up the program.

This legion event is planned as the first of a series of entertainments by the local post to raise a fund for a permanent home for the post and its auxiliary organization. It is planned to make this home a community house to serve as headquarters for all civic organizations.

"America for Americans" is the motto of the American legion, a representative body of former service men and women which has a membership more than eight times the total enrollment of all other bodies of World war veterans. Any one holding an honorable discharge from any branch of the service is eligible to membership.

The purpose of the legion as stated in its constitution, is "to foster and perpetuate a 100 per cent. Americanism; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community; to make right the master of might, and to safeguard principles of justice, freedom and democracy."

At the national convention of the organization last summer in Cleveland, National Commander F. W. Galbraith, Jr., of Cincinnati, voiced this appeal for support of the legion:

"Men who met the enemy in personal combat deserve united and unqualified support now just as they did while the war was on and its result in doubt. Some people's patriotism seems like their religion, assumed for the occasion, then conveniently dropped. People said in 1917-18, 'Nothing too good for our boys.' What do you hear of that sentiment now?

"'Wake up, America!' The American legion is the backbone of your national defense against external and internal aggression. Support the legion."

EXAMINATION OF FORRY'S ACCOUNTS INDEFINITE

Three State Examiners Are Still at Work.

Examination of the books of the county treasurer's office during the term of former Treasurer Harry A. Forry are on hand for his appearance in the common pleas court to answer a charge of embezzlement. A. B. Index man. Three state examiners are at work on the books and it is expected that the investigation will take some weeks yet.

A. B. Perkinpaugh, of the state auditors office in charge of the investigation, this afternoon stated that he could not state how much longer it will take to complete the examination. He pointed out that nothing of a definite nature can be determined until after the February settlement is made and the books turned over to the county auditor. This, he said, will take some time yet.

After this settlement is made it will be necessary to check up the accounts and send out delinquent notices. Mr. Perkinpaugh said the books are being examined from September 1, 1919, up to the present time.

A WORKHOUSE SENTENCE FOR WOMAN SUSPENDED

After She Promises To Take Care of Children.

On an affidavit filed in the mayor's court this morning, Humane Officer J. H. Eymon and Deputy Sheriff D. S. Belt drove to Owens and arrested Mamie Williams and brought her before the mayor to answer a charge of abandoning her three children, ranging in age from three months to little over three years. The woman stated that she left home because she could not get along with her husband. It was then brought out that the woman did not keep her home in a shape to bring up children as they should be brought up and the mayor sentenced her to thirty days in the workhouse, the sentence being suspended on her promise to take care of the children, while the husband was also instructed to do his part.

CIGARET LAW VIOLATED BY NUMBER, MAYOR SAYS

Fine of $25 Is Assessed This Morning.

Chief J. W. Thompson filed an affidavit in the mayor's court, this morning, charging Mrs. W. D. Jenner, of Bennett street, with selling cigarets to Stanley West, a minor, under the age of eighteen years. The husband of the woman appeared to answer for her and on his plea of guilty the mayor fined him $25.

Mayor Andrews stated this morning that a number of merchants were violating this law and that the police would make a special effort to break up the practice. Under the law merchants are not permitted to sell tobacco in any form to persons under eighteen years of age, not even on a written or verbal order of their parents.

LOREN M'CLURE NABBED ON COMPLAINT OF WIFE

Whose Half-Brother Uses Stove Shaker Effectively

Loren McClure was arrested Sunday night at the corner of Center and Leader streets as a result of a complaint made against him by his wife, who has been living apart from him. McClure went to his wife's residence, on Toledo avenue. Trouble followed between him and his wife's half brother. The latter struck McClure with a stove shaker, breaking the shaker and cutting a gash on McClure's head that required a number of stitches after he was taken to headquarters.

The woman appeared before the mayor at noon to file charges against McClure and he will be given a hearing later.

TRISCARI'S SLAYER IS DENIED NEW TRIAL

By Appellate Court, Which Dismisses Appeal.

Appeal of the case of Antonio Montanio, convicted of second degree murder, has been dismissed in the court of appeals on motion of L. E. Myers, attorney for the convicted man. The case was taken up on error. Montanio was found guilty of second degree murder by a jury in the common pleas court March 14 1920 before Judge Grant D. Mouser for the killing of Thomas Triscari of the plant of the Horn Fireworks company. Montanio is now in the Ohio state penitentiary.

Court House To Close.

Announcement was made this afternoon that all of the offices at the courthouse will be closed tomorrow in observance of the anniversary of the birth of George Washington.

Burton Gregg, who makes his home with Mr. and Mrs. Fleet Baker, of south Prospect street, underwent an operation Saturday at the City hospital.

Mrs. L. D. Hamilton and Mrs. F. H. Mahla have returned from a visit of a few days with relatives in Salamanca, New York.

BIRTHS

A daughter was born Sunday morning to Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Thomas of Baker street. The child has been named Gretchen Louise.

A son was born Sunday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Kelley, 70 Clinton street.

A daughter was born Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Yost of the Harper hotel.

A son was born Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cunningham of west Center street.

Talks on Evangelism.

Rev. O. A. Hostler who is conducting evangelistic services at the First Presbyterian church, gave a talk on "Evangelism" at the meeting of the ministerial association held this morning in the Y. M. C. A. building. There was good attendance.

Dr. F. C. Smith, of west Center street, has purchased the Baker property, No. 356-360 east Church street, and expects to remodel it by adding several office rooms. Dr. Smith will occupy the new office about May 1.

Miss Naomi MacBride and Miss Alice Schlinder, of Crestline, were guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Heiby, of No. 636 Cherry street.

W. A. and Clifford Chapman, of No. 302 Forest street, left this morning for a year's visit in El Paso, Texas.

CARL LAEMMLE Presents

DOROTHY PHILLIPS

Brilliant Star of "The Heart of Humanity" and "The Right to Happiness," in

ONCE TO EVERY WOMAN

Directed by Allen Holubar

MARION — WHERE ALL MARION GOES

TONIGHT — TOMORROW — WEDNESDAY

Here is Dorothy Phillips' newest photoplay, the most appealing of all her productions. After her country-wide success in "The Heart of Humanity" and "The Right to Happiness," Miss Phillips is one of our foremost screen stars. What comes "Once to Every Woman?" Every woman thinks she knows, but every woman isn't sure. And every woman wants to find out. And every woman will find out—for here is a picture of such realism and beauty of sentiment and honesty of drama that she will find in it the answer to much of her curiosity and many of her longings and a great deal that she has always suspected.

Directed by Allen Holubar, that famous creator of "The Heart of Humanity," "ONCE TO EVERY WOMAN" has scored a triumph in every city it has shown.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of a certain power of attorney duly executed to the undersigned by the widow and all the heirs at law of W. S. Hartwell, late of Morrow County, Ohio, deceased, and as the agent of said widow and heirs at law, I will sell at public auction on the premises, and free of dower, the following real estate, being the real estate of the estate of said W. S. Hartwell, deceased, to-wit:

Situated in the Township of Franklin, County of Morrow and State of Ohio, and being the northeast quarter of section ten (10), township seventeen (17) and range twenty (20), excepting therefrom all that part which lies west of the public highway which runs north and south through said quarter-section, containing one hundred and fifty-five (155) acres of land, more or less. Also dwelling house No. 2, suitable for a tenant. Also good sugar camp.

Said lands will be sold to the highest bidder, and on Thursday, the 3rd of March, 1921, at 1 o'clock, p. m.

Said lands will be sold upon the following terms: One-third cash on day of sale; one-third in one year and one-third in two years; deferred payments to bear interest at the rate of 6% per annum, payable annually, and secured by first mortgage on the premises sold, or all cash at the option of the purchaser.

Said farm is located on the Mt. Gilead and Pulaskiville road, one and one-half (1½) miles from Pulaskiville and five and one-half (5½) miles from Mt. Gilead; and lies two miles and one-half (2½) miles from the Mt. Gilead-Mt. Vernon inter-county highway. This farm is well underdrained and well watered; eight-room frame dwelling house and a good bank barn.

2 — FARMS — 2

The first farm consists of about 78 acres lying on the stone pike one mile north of Martel. This is good land, is well tiled and has one of the most valuable assets to be found anywhere, a never failing spring that furnishes water for the stock the year around. The farm home is only 20 minutes walk from the station at Martel where there are three railroads, three stores and a centralized High school. There is an abundance of fruit of almost every kind, apples, peaches, cherries, pears, grapes and plums. This farm has been in the Jones family for more than 75 years and should be purchased by a man who is looking for a home. The buildings consisting of house, summer kitchen, wood house and buggy shed are in good repair.

Farm No. 2 comprises 40 acres of land off of the south end of the John Postlethwaugh farm, lying half way between Martel and Caledonia. This is good land, is tiled, is now in pasture and has a wind pump to furnish water for the stock.

Remember this property must be sold to settle up the estate. Remember the day, Feb. 24th, 10 a. m. Terms given to purchaser.

W. L. HARDMAN, Auctioneer. J. B. JONES, Executor. 2-18, 19, 21

A MAN WANTED

In the year 1856 Charles Tower was a foreman finisher with The Barney and Smith car shops over in Dayton. He was a genius in handling varnishes. In recognition of his ability, a Dayton varnish company put out a varnish called "Tower Varnish."

In the year 1868 Charles Tower started The Tower Varnish & Dryer Company and for years sold fine varnishes to the leading railroads, manufacturers, coach and carriage painters, etc. The business gradually grew so as to include such worthy customers as the U. S. Army, Navy, Panama Canal, Lighthouse Service, etc.

Tower Varnish and Dryer Com sold on claims. They are sold on facts. The exact formula is placed on every can of paint that leaves our factory. The formula of the paint, the physical properties of the varnish is found in all Tower literature.

Less than a year ago, Tower Paint was offered to the public. Direct from the factory. No branch houses, no jobbers, no retail dealers. With only one selling expense—a commission that we pay our local representative. We offer to the man who wants to push honest paint in a profit winning way, our agency for Marion and vicinity. Write or wire, giving former occupations, references, qualifications for calling on country as well as city trade. The Tower Varnish and Dryer Company, Dayton, Ohio. 1

Infested With Vermin.

New York, Feb. 21.—Twenty-five immigrants, part of 830 released from Ellis Island, were taken to a hospital for re-examination by city health authorities, and it was disclosed they were infested with typhus-carrying vermin. As 220 of the 830 were destined for other cities, Health Commissioner Copeland pointed out that other parts of the country, as well as New York, would benefit by the precautions being taken here.

Most men dislike to visit their relatives almost as much as their relatives dislike to have them do it.

FINAL CLEAN-UP!

CHARLES SCHROETER IS BADLY HURT SUNDAY

When He's Caught Between Electric Car and Sink.

Charles Schroeter was badly injured Saturday afternoon when he was caught between an electric car and a sink in the Huber garage.

One of the men at the garage was just getting out of the machine when his clothes caught on the controller, throwing the motor into high speed and starting the car. Mr. Schroeter was standing in front of it.

The injured man was removed to the City hospital in the Hess & Markert ambulance. He suffered a compound fracture of the left leg, between the hip and knee and had his left hand injured. It was necessary to amputate the little finger and part of two other fingers.

CLEVELAND MURDER SUSPECT HELD HERE

NOT IN CLEVELAND SINCE JANUARY, HE INSISTS

Has Scars on Face Resembling Finger-Nail Scratches—In Shelby Last Week.

A man giving his name as Robert Barnett, twenty-one, who appeared at the town hall in Caledonia Saturday night seeking shelter from the cold, is being held at the county jail as a suspect in the murder of two Parma High school teachers whose mutilated bodies were found in a lonely spot on the Bean road, near Cleveland, Thursday morning.

Marks on Barnett's face and neck resemble scratches made by finger nails and it was this fact that caused the authorities at Caledonia to suspect the man might know something about the murders. Reports from Cleveland describing the manner stated that the place where the bodies of Miss Louise Wolf and Miss Mabel Foote were found indicated the women had fought fiercely for their lives.

Denies All Knowledge.

Barnett stoutly denies that he has any knowledge of the murders and states that he has not been in Cleveland since the middle of January. He said that he has a sister, Mrs. George Brown, of No. 5307 Venning court, East Cleveland. Police in Cleveland have been notified of the arrest and are investigating Barnett's story through the sister.

About 11 o'clock Saturday night Barnett appeared at the town hall in Caledonia and asked to be permitted to sleep in the town prison that night. He had no coat and was attired in an army shirt, sleeveless grey sweater, dark trousers and hat. Marshal David Herrod and Mayor R. B. Bell, of Caledonia, became suspicious of Barnett and notified Sheriff Frank A. Washburn and Chief of Police J. W. Thompson, who drove to Caledonia and brought the man to Marion.

Story Is Vague.

Barnett's story explaining his whereabouts for the past week, as told this morning, was vague only in the statement of where he was in Wednesday and Thursday nights. He first claimed to have slept in police headquarters in Shelby one of the other of the nights, but could not remember which. Later he stated positively that he had spent last Wednesday night in Shelby and spent Thursday night walking along the Big Four railroad. Sheriff Washburn is making an effort to learn from Shelby authorities whether Barnett spent either night there.

According to Barnett's story which was laboriously told on account of a marked impediment in the man's speech, he was born in Canada twenty-one years ago and his parents died when he was a small boy. He stated he was adopted by some German people and at the age of ten ran away from them on account of harsh and brutal treatment. He exhibited scars on his body which he claimed are the result of being mistreated by his adopted parents.

Injury Causes Impediment.

Another scar just above the left eye, Barnett says, marks a wound received by being thrown from a horse when thirteen years of age. He said this injury caused the impediment in his speech, but claims that no other defect resulted from it and he has never experienced a lapse of memory.

"I went to Cleveland last September and worked there until the first of year, when I was laid off," Barnett said. "For two weeks I stayed at the home of my sister and about the middle of January went to Warren, Michigan, where I worked on a farm for William Rotzman. I have worked for him at various times for two years."

Barnett claims he landed in Toledo Monday, having ridden on a truck from Detroit. He claims to have been held by four men, who took his suitcase and said that in the fight with them he threw off his coat. It was in this altercation that he received the scratches on his face and neck, Barnett claims.

Sleeps in Basement.

Leaving Toledo Tuesday morning, Barnett reached Willard at 10 o'clock that night and slept in a basement near a furnace, according to his story. He claims to have walked from Fremont along the Big Four railroad and to have slept in the prison at Shelby Wednesday night. Thursday night he said he walked all night and Friday afternoon sawed wood for a night's lodging at a farm four miles from Shelby. Saturday, he said he walked to Caledonia and applied at the town hall for a place to sleep. He claims to be enroute to Hot Springs, Arkansas, where he has an uncle, David Barnett. He also claims to have a cousin, John Barnett, a member of the Detroit police force.

When asked if the scars on his neck and face were the result of a fight with women, Barnett became indignant and declared he never had any trouble with women. He added that he would not hit a woman. He clung steadfastly to his story, although at times he seemed at a loss to remember the names of the towns he claims to have visited during the past week.

ALLEN DAY DIES AT AGE OF EIGHTY-FOUR

His Death Late Sunday Due to Apoplexy.

ONE OF BEST-KNOWN RESIDENTS OF COUNTY

Funeral Will Be Held at Brady Home in Grand Township Tuesday at 1:30 P. M.

At the age of eighty-four years Allen Day, a life-long resident of this county, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. L. D. Brady, in Grand township at 5:10 o'clock Sunday afternoon. His death was caused by exhaustion due to apoplexy following a three-months illness.

Mr. Day was a well-known farmer of the vicinity of Meeker, where he was born and lived on the farm known as the Day homestead in Big Island township, until seven years ago when he retired.

Mr. Day was born April 7, 1836, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ovington Day, who were of Scotch extraction. He was the last of a family of nine children. His father was a soldier in the war of 1812 and his grandfather and great-grandfather fought together in the revolutionary war, both being present at the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown.

Mr. Day was twice married. His first wife was formerly Sarah J. Mears and he was married to her January 28, 1858. He was later married on October 8, 1874, to Nancy J. Byrns. Surviving him are two daughters and a son, Mrs. A. L. D. Brady, at whose home he died; Ferris Day, of near Agosta, and Mrs. George W. Baker, of this city.

The funeral will be held from the Brady home, Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, Rev. J. A. Sutton officiating. Interment will be made in the Meeker cemetery.
